Council Plans Tremors Hit Skopje Anew, Causing Fear

Probe Set In Report Estimate Has Risen About $200,000

Council has scheduled a caucus meeting Friday night at 8 to inquire into reports that latest estimates place the cost of the St. Clair Ave. improvement at approximately $800,000, up a about $200,000 from the last tentative figure.

The meeting was called by Council's street committee, comprised of Kenneth C. Berg, chairman, S. Jamse Welch and Floyd Murray.

The committee said it has invited four other city officials in order to learn what new data the administration may have received from the State Highway Department. They are Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen, Engineer George S. Bloomgren and Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper.

In response to queries, Berg said several councilmen have heard indirect reports in the last few days that the St. Clair estimate has been placed around $800,000. But the councilmen have been unable to confirm the reports, Berg said.

The most recent estimate given the Council placed the cost of the job at approximately $600,000. In the initial stages of the discussion of the work, there were guesses that the cost might range around $400,000.

The project calls for a new three-lane reinforced concrete pavement and a complete storm drainage system in the stretch

Early Storm Brings Half Inch Of Rain

An early-morning thunderstorm drenched the district with more than half an inch of rain to get August off to a wet start.

But it will take several such downpours to make up for the precipitation deficiency that has been growing monthly in Columbiana County.

The Stratton Dam reported 0.57 inch of rain in the storm that hit at 4 a. m. today. It lasted about an hour and a half but apparently was localized as Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, said none fell in his area.

Summarizing weather data for July, Copeland said the average rainfall for the month is 4.3 inches, but only 3.22 inches fell.

The average for the entire year to date is short 3.79 inches at the station, he said. He pointed out that some sections of the county received more rain than at Millport.

The area is 17 inches short in rain at the station since Jan. 1, 1960, and above average rainfall is needed for several months to bring the underground water level back up, he said.

June also had below - average rainfall and Copeland said at least three good rains are needed each week for the corn, which is just starting to ear.

Below average temperatures also marked the July weather.

The temperature during the month averaged 68.6 degrees, compared with the 70-year average of 70.5 degrees.

$353,958 Low Bid On Area Road Project

2 More Lanes To Be Built For Empire Section Of Route 7

The Ohio Department of Highways in Columbus opened apparent low bids totaling $468,517 Wednesday for improvements to sections of roads in Jefferson and Columbiana Counties.

Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry submitted the apparent low bid of $353,958 for grading, draining and paving of two additional lanes and resurfacing of two existing lanes of almost two miles of State Route 7 between Empire and Stratton.

The project calls for paving of two lanes of a four-lane stretch along the Ohio River that was built five years ago. The stretch was graded for a four-lane highway, but only two were paved.

The two existing lanes of Route 7 will also be resurfaced, providing a stretch of four-lane "super-road" from Empire north to Wellsville.

Construction crews are applying the finishing touches to the Port Homer link of the Route 7 super-road, the Division 11 office in New Philadelphia reported.

The state's estimate for the improvement was $367,600.

Agents Locate Cache Of Cuban Explosives

MANDEVILLE, La. (AP)—FBI agents seized a cache of explosives at a house in a resort section near here Wednesday.

An informed source said the explosives were part of a cache destined for Cuba. There have been no arrests.

In Washington, the FBI said the house was owned jointly by two New Orleans men. They were not named.

Rescue Near Greenville

Railroad Fireman Saves Child From Train's Path

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Ralph LaRue, a Pennsylvania Railroad fireman, rescued a child from the path of his moving train Wednesday.

LaRue, riding on the footboard of the front of the locomotive of a fast freight, pushed 1½-year-old Shirley Ward out of the path of the train while it still was rolling after engineer W. E. Hanning applied the emergency brakes.

To get to Shirley, LaRue had to crawl out on the engine catwalk and make his way to the footboard.

Hanning said the train, en route from Columbus to Indianapolis, was going 40 or 45 miles an hour when he noticed the girl sitting in the middle of the tracks 1,000 feet ahead. He braked and the train slowed but couldn't stop short of the private crossing where the baby sat.

LaRue reached down and pushed the child to the side of the road-bed just in time.

The train rolled to a halt several feet down the track, and the crew went back to find Shirley unhurt. The child's mother, Mrs. George Ward, said Shirley had wandered away from their home near the tracks. The rescue took place about two miles east of Greenville.

LaRue lives in New Rome, Henning in Westerville. Both are near Columbus.

LaRue said in Indianapolis later:

"Any human being would have done what I did. I have two small grandchildren of my own."

Hanning recalled, "We had 30 empty piggyback cars on the end, and they gave us quite a jerk" when he jammed on the brakes.

"It's a wonder it didn't throw LaRue off."

LaRue's wife in New Rome said her husband has worked for the Pennsy since 1941. They have a son, 18, and a married daughter who is the mother of those "two small grandchildren."

Hanning's daughter, Gretchen, said her father is a veteran of more than 30 years with the railroad. She was thrilled when The Associated Press informed her of the incident.

"In my opinion, Mr. LaRue is a perfect example of a railroad featherbedder." If Dad was alone, that baby would have been killed."

In the national railroad work rules dispute, the rail brotherhoods are fighting to preserve the jobs of firemen, which management proposes to eliminate gradually as superfluous.

The sources said McNamara told West Germany's defense minister Wednesday that the United States had no intention of reducing its military effort on the continent.

Sweden Slates Probe

Crash Kills 10 On Road Near Toledo

Car-Truck Collide As Families Return Home After Movies

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A fiery car-truck collision near Genoa Wednesday night took the lives of 10 persons and wiped out the family of Felix Campos, a migrant crop worker. Eight of the 10 were children.

The 10 had been out for a night at the movies, and no one in the 6-year-old station wagon survived.

Killed in the crash on Ohio 51 were Campos, 41, of Florida City, Fla.; his wife, Catalina, 36, and their children, Maria, 14, Joseph, 12, Rosa, 10, and David, 5; and Jaime Chico, 7, his brother, Raoul, 12, and sister, Guadalupe, 6.

The fifth Campos child, Theresa, 7, died early today in St. Charles Hospital.

The families were migrant workers on the farm of Emil Wehert near Elmore.

Charles Strong, 38, of Rt. 3, Swanton, jumped from the flaming cab of his semi-trailer after the crash.

The Highway Patrol quoted Strong as saying the car tried to pass another vehicle and hit him head-on. Strong was released from the hospital after treatment.

The patrol said bodies were strewn over the highway, 10 miles southeast of Toledo, after the crash.

The parents of the Chico children, Mr. and Mrs. Camilo Chico, were in a state of shock at the hospital and declined to identify the bodies of the children. They talked with hospital and patrol officials through an interpreter and had friends identify the children.

Patrolmen said the Campos family came to this country from Mexico in 1932.

66 Units Due In Chester's Fair Parade

Sixty-six units are registered so far for the annual Chester firemen's parade Friday at 7 p. m., in conjunction with the week-long fair at Rock Springs Park.

Units will consist of fire equipment of district fire departments, musical, marching and comedy groups and floats representing several organizations.

The new, 125-piece Oak Glen High School band will march, along with bands from East Liverpool and Weirton High Schools.

The Rebels Drum and Bugle Corps sponsored by the Chester firemen will be in the line of march along with State Police and city and county officials.

The Grant District Burial Group color guard will lead the parade which will be started promptly at 7 with a blast of the fire siren.

The reviewing stand will be on Carolina Ave. near 6th St.

The parade will form on Virginia Ave. and move to 2nd St., out 2nd to Carolina Ave., over Carolina to 6th St., then on 6th to the high school, where it will disband. In case of rain the parade will be held Saturday night.

Jerrold Wilson, chairman of the parade committee, said that $500 in prizes will be awarded to various units.

Decorations have been erected along the parade route with a large banner, "Welcome Firemen," above the intersection of Carolina Ave. and 4th St.

Police Chief Clarence Lennens said no parking will be permitted on Virginia Ave. from 1st St. to Adolphus St., 2nd and 3rd Sts. from Virginia Ave. to Carolina Ave., Carolina from 2nd St. to 6th St. and on 6th from Carolina to Indiana Ave.

Chief Lennens said no parking signs will be posted on these streets and the parking ban will be enforced from 4 p. m. until after the parade.

The fair opens each night at 7 with free entertainment at 8:30. Several organizations, along with the firemen, have concession stands at the fair. Alton Johnson is general chairman.

Over 700 attended Wednesday night's performance.

Negro Vote Promoted

Ballot Helps Equal Rights Campaign

In a potentially powerful weapon in his fight against segregation, the Negro is enthusiastically taking part today in a massive vote registration campaign. As the number grows, the political leverage of the Negro increases. Fourth in a specialized series of articles by The Associated Press on the racial crisis.

A reporter questions her. She says, simply:

"I just want to become a citizen of our country. Being registered will make me a full citizen."

This scene—with its immense potentialities for the Negro movement—is being re-enacted in hundreds of cities in the South today.

It is the result of the voter-registration drive.

Throughout the South, Negro organizations are working to register more of their people, thousands of men and women who never voted before. As the number grows, the political leverage of the Negro increases. Here, potentially, is a powerful weapon in his fight against segregation.

The drive moves through many channels.

The woman in Tuskegee may have decided to try to register after hearing a constantly repeated radio appeal, attending a meeting, or simply receiving a handbill.

Elsewhere, Negro workers canvass a residential district on registration days, ringing doorbells.

If the housewife isn't registered, they urge her to go to the courthouse immediately. If she has no transportation, they provide it. If she says she can't leave her children, they offer to baby-sit.

Another device is the "voter clinic." This is a meeting in which Negro instructors show would-be applicants the technicalities of registering, how to correctly fill out the forms. In Tuskegee alone, during the month of June, there were 19 such "clinics."

And there is the famous Alabama mule. He walks through the streets of Huntsville, carrying a sandwich billboard. The sign reads, "I'm not registered because I'm a mule. What's your excuse?"

Speaking of the voter registration drives, Bishop George W. Barber of the African Methodist Episcopal Church said:

"The objectives of the campaign would be accomplished substantially by registering and voting

School Law Approved In Pennsylvania

House Passes Bill Modifying Previous Reorganization Act

HARRISBURG (AP)—A new compulsory school reorganization program received final legislative approval Wednesday night.

The House passed the Senate originated plan, 123-73. It will need only Gov. Scranton's signature to become law.

The program would erase from the statutes the 1961 compulsory reorganization law which has generated one of the biggest educational controversies in years in its 23 months of existence.

There were 106 Republicans and 17 Democrats supporting the bill. Seventy-one Democrats and two Republicans opposed it.

Rep. Edwin D. Ehleman, chairman of the House Education Committee, described the bill as "a compromise between the two extremes" on the issue.

Minority Leader Anthony J. Petrosky said the new program represented surrender to "the bellying and the crying of the few."

The bill was expected to merge the state's 2,056 school districts into approximately 530 by the 1966-67 school year.

Slugs Used To Obtain $3 In Money Changer

Slugs were used to obtain $3.30 from a coin changing device in an East End automatic laundry sometime Wednesday, the proprietor reported to police late yesterday afternoon.

Paul Conkle, operator of the Econ-O-Wash Laundry, 1790 Pennsylvania Ave., told police at 4:44 the changing device was "milked" of $1.50 in 50-cent pieces, $1.50 in 25-cent pieces and 30 cents in 10-cent pieces. Slugs made in the shape and size as the three denominations of coins were fed into the changing device, he said.

Police pointed out the person responsible violated a newly effective federal law that governs insertion of a slug into a coin-changing device or a coin-operated machine.

Ward Convicted; Lies Near Death

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Stephen Ward was reported near death tonight.

A medical bulletin announced his condition had deteriorated after throat surgery to ease his breathing.

Convicted on two vice charges growing out of Britain's sex-and-security scandal, Ward remained in a coma from an overdose of drugs taken Wednesday on the last day of his trial.

Surgeons operated on Ward today.

A morning medical bulletin issued by St. Stephen's Hospital said Ward was "still grievously or critically ill and still deeply unconscious."

Ward had been breathing through a tube thrust down his throat.

W. Mayne Butcher, a hospital official, said surgeons performed a tracheotomy, which consists of making an opening into the windpipe.

Disappoints Kennedy

Ike Advises Republican Caution On Test Ban Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has flipped on a caution light for Republicans maneuvering gingerly into position for Senate consideration of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

Eisenhower's statement in New York Wednesday that the agreement between the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain to halt all but underground tests has "some advantages and some disadvantages" just about sums up the majority opinion among Senate Republicans.

So, too, did his refusal to take a stand on the pact until military men and scientists have testified fully about all aspects of it.

In language similar to the call by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois for a "minute examination" of the treaty's implications, Eisenhower added:

"We must listen very closely."

Eisenhower's noncommittal position obviously was disappointing to President Kennedy and Democratic congressional leaders. They would have liked an endorsement which might nudge GOP senators along toward a favorable vote.

For a time it looked as though the President would have difficulty in getting GOP representation at the Moscow signing ceremonies. But he was able to persuade Sens. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., and George D. Aiken, R-Vt., to join the delegation which leaves Friday.

Reds Claim Provocation By America

Broadcast Doesn't Mention Action By Communist Squads

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Communist North Korea accused the United States today of "war provocation plots" in this divided peninsula. It ignored the Red suicide squad that slipped into South Korea this week and killed three U.S. soldiers.

The North Korean Foreign Ministry accused the State Department of trying to "cover up the criminal nature of U.S. imperialism in South Korea and to justify the long-term occupation of South Korea by the U.S. Army."

"By playing up the nonexistent threat from the North," said a Communist broadcast, "the U.S. imperialists are foolishly trying to camouflage the war provocation plots they are hatching in the South."

North Korea said the Americans are trying to justify "aggressive acts of their own." It said the United States has heightened tension by introducing "atomic weapons and guided missiles and turning South Korea into an atomic base, scrapping and violating the Korean armistice agreement."

American commanders in Korea admit they possess weapons capable of firing nuclear warheads, but normally decline comment on whether nuclear warheads are stored in Korea.

The broadcast made no mention of the ambush killing of two U.S. soldiers just south of the demilitarized zone Monday or the skirmish six miles farther south Tuesday in which another American, a South Korean policeman and from Princeton Ave. to the north city limits near Cain St.

The federal government already has agreed to pay 50 per cent of the cost, which means that U. S. funds will be available up to $400,000 if the cost hits $800,000.

The $10 - a - foot assessment which the city will collect from abutting property - owners, plus about $18,000 already spent on preparation of plans, will account for roughly $200,000 of the municipality's share.

Aside from other credits the city might receive, that would leave approximately $200,000 to be raised - equivalent to 25 cents on the $1 so far as the overall cost is concerned.

But, as has been pointed out to Council on several prior occasions, the cost will not be known definitely until a contract is let. In practice, the state's estimates on its contemplated projects generally are well above the actual contract price.

Regardless of the final cost, there will be no variation in the assessment against property-owners. Legislation already has pegged it at $10 a foot, and it is not subject to fluctuation in relation to the contract price.

Originally, it was patterned after the 1961 law, which used 4,000 pupils as the minimum size of new school districts to be organized for the 1965-66 school year.

The administration bill also carried the same exemptions as the 1961 law for areas where growing population, mountainous terrain, sociological or economic conditions or administrative problems indicated smaller districts should be approved.

four North Koreans died. The U.N. command said the North Koreans were carrying weapons used in the ambush Monday.

The United States denounced the ambush as a "vicious, unprovoked attack."

U.S. Army patrols aided by spotlights searched the banks of the Imjin River along the demilitarized zone for more Communist infiltrators.

South Korean Defense Minister Kim Sung-eun said Monday's ambush was a futile effort to force the American troops to withdraw from the Korean front.

Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies, 18. His attorneys said they would appeal.

Sentencing was postponed until Ward can be brought into court. Doctors said that would be at least a week. He could get seven years in prison on each count.

Ward was acquitted on one charge of living off the prostitution of Vicky Barrett and two of procuring under-age girls.

Two further charges against Ward of counseling and procuring the commission of an abortion were not pressed. The court ruled these charges would be held over to September, after the summer recess, when prosecutor Mervyn Griffith-Jones will decide whether to proceed with them.

Ohioans Have Everything To Gain

A few economies don't make a cutback in public spending. But Ohio Gov. Rhodes has been given a preliminary progress report by Howard Bishop, head of the Council for Reorganization of State Government (Little Hoover Commission) that points in the right direction.

"The urge to provide more service at less cost is spreading throughout state government," says Mr. Bishop. "As this trend gains momentum, the state of Ohio will soon move into an enviable position among state governments throughout the country."

It would not be a case of the world beating a path to Ohio's door, where the latch string is hanging out and the welcome mat is down. It would be a case of Ohio's unique accomplishment in stemming the rising tide of public spending getting coast-to-coast publicity.

THIS IS EASIER to talk about than to do. But it's one of those propositions that is sure-fire because Ohioans can't lose. If the original Hoover Commission hadn't plugged leaks in federal spending, federal deficits would be even higher than they are now and government would be even less efficient.

If Ohio's little commission hadn't been put to work, the Rhodes administration wouldn't have had an outside chance of keeping a lid on state taxes. The spenders would have kept right on running wild with the bit in their teeth.

IT IS NOT too soon to urge the commission to submit estimates from time to time of how much more would have been spent if it hadn't been created in an attempt to make prudence politically fashionable.

If the idea ever hits this country that Ohio switched from spend-and-elect to save-and-elect, taxpayers from coast to coast will urge their own spenders to get with it—and deliverance from bondage will be only a budget away.

Politicians would outdo each other to save money, instead of spend it.

The Horror Has Been Previewed

The possibility that Red China may step up the horror of the never-settled Korean War has been raised by the murder of U.S. soldiers during the 10th anniversary of the signing of the truce in 1953.

If North Korean raids into South Korean territory continue and if more deaths occur, the news focus will shift again to Asia. If there were to be a simultaneous increase in the rate of killing in South Viet Nam and a pickup in preparations to invade India along the long border with Red China, the Western World would have a shocking demonstration of what has been in store for it since the end of World War II.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur told Congress it was coming when he made his memorable address to Congress in 1951. Colonialism in Asia is dead, he declared. Nationalism is the new force. Asiatics, he said, are on the march.

GEN. PATRICK J. HURLEY, whose death occurred Tuesday night, had warned of the same thing after his experiences as ambassador to China in World War II. The ferment of nationalism is beyond control in Asia—and Red China is in the best position to take advantage of it because Red China is the essence of the revolutionary ferment sweeping Asia.

The Red Chinese are not only nationalists; they are under the rule of ideological zealots, shrewd and capable exploiters of the everything-to-gain-nothing-to-lose mood of hungry hordes of illiterate people.

It is no comfort to know they cannot win a war because they lack all the tools, except manpower. The United States had a preview in Korea of what it is like to fight an enemy reckless of its manpower because it has nothing else.

The United States could not win in Korea without a greater effort than the government in power at the time thought could be justified. But neither could it afford to lose.

HENCE, the truce in Korea.

Hence, the stalemate in South Viet Nam, where France bled to death trying not to lose and the United States now is bleeding trying not to lose.

This is the ultimate horror — this kind of war that cannot be lost and cannot be won—the nightmare vision of the late George Orwell in "1984"—a war that goes on forever, for reasons no one can define, in a part of the world no one can locate exactly.

Russia's Record Is Bad

All who are urging their fellow Americans to take the good faith of the Soviet Union for granted in a nuclear test ban treaty must face down the facts of history.

United States & World Report estimates that the Soviet Union has made 53 agreements since the end of World War II and violated 50.

Before World War II, the Russian record was just as bad. Between 1926 and 1933, the Soviet Union made a series of nonaggression treaties with its neighbors. Yet in 1939 it invaded Poland and Finland and in 1940 seized Bessarabia from Romania.

AFTER THE FALL of Paris in 1940, Soviet forces overran the Baltic states in violation of existing treaties. After the surrender of Germany in 1945, Soviet forces invaded Japanese-held territory, despite a Soviet-Japanese nonaggression treaty.

If the Khrushchev regime in the Kremlin pushes the idea of a nonaggression treaty as a sequel to a nuclear test ban treaty, it will revive unhappy memories of one of the drabdest chapters in Russian diplomacy — the Russian nonaggression treaty with Nazi Germany in 1939.

Ah, Mr. Ford

Talk about Henry Ford in connection with the centennial year of his birth always gets around to the Model T.

The thing about the T that fascinates me is, it might have been F. R. or W. In the Ford Museum, a visitor learns that models followed each other, beginning with the first letter of the alphabet, until they reached T—and that was the one Henry Ford put into mass production.

This happened so long ago as auto history goes, that Model Ts are now museum items. But as time goes, it wasn't long at all. Millions knew the Model T as intimately as any member of the family.

It's hard to understand now, but early automobiles were not necessities as they are today. They were curiosities—prized possessions. Nothing about them was taken for granted. We covered them at night and fussed over them.

The urge to take them apart and put them back together again was strong. People uncertain where the distributor head is situated now knew the electrical system of a Model T from the coil box (on the dash) to the intricacies of the tail-light kits that were popular in one of the early rounds of the do-it-yourself movement.

An oil-burning (kerosene) tail light was one of Henry Ford's small economies, along with some of his larger ones. Like the left-hand door that was only a mockup—no door at all. So the owner installed an electric tail light.

That was the way it was with early cars. The extras came extra. It kept the dealer's price low, and it kept the owner interested, just as today people who "customize" autos to suit their own taste are kept interested.

It has escaped people who sniff out significance, but the Model T was the "compact" of its era—the minimum-price maximum-performance rebuttal to designers and manufacturers who wanted autos to be motorized stage coaches for the wealthy.

Most of the reminiscence about Model T dwells on its reliable performance, which was fantastic. But what made it sensational was the price. It was so low buyers paid cash and waited in line for the privilege.

Imagine the impact today of a reliable car that would be sold new at about $500 and that was the miracle of Model T—the real genius of the man who motorized America.

On second thought, better not imagine it, because that's not the way things are now. The current generation of automotive geniuses know there is no demand for low-cost new transportation. There's not enough profit, they explain.

People want to buy expensive cars and pay for them on time, says the current generation of automotive geniuses. If they want cheap transportation, they will buy used cars, according to the reigning lights of the industry.

If they do get a crack at a modernized Model T, say the big brains of this new era, they will get sick of it and want something bigger and better and more complicated to maintain and operate, with a faster rate of depreciation.

Ah, Mr. Ford, if you could only see us now.

Terrorism Sweeps Jungles Of Peru

By Victor Riesel

LIMA, Peru

Gun-toting torturer and terrorist Hugo Blanco is in jail. Back home in the United States this may not mean much. But it should. And not only because the 29-year-old Blanco is a self-styled Castro. Not only because the Blanco bands screaming "¡muerte o muerte!" (land or death) have been racing in from the mountains and jungles of south-eastern Peru in a series of violent raids. Not only because he and his lieutenants hate the United States.

Victor Riesel

Guerrilla leader Hugo Blanco is most significant because he is one of the first of the "Maoists" in Latin America. He is a young intellectual who believes in the Chinese Communist techniques developed by Mao Tse-tung—jungle fighting, slow infiltration, living off the frightened peasantry, and in the end arousing a country-wide revolt against the big cities and finally against the national government.

SOON THERE will be many Blancos to idolize Mao and launch jungle warfare in Latin America. They may not be able to topple governments—yet. But they can sure make an economy shaky in the provinces and thereby affect the financial and industrial stability of a central government. This is what Blanco's hit-and-run bands were attempting when he was captured on May 30 after a nine-month search by a detachment of the Civil Guard.

Blanco's bands have been operating in a region known as La Convencion Valley in South-east Peru. His tactics are similar to those of Mao and Ho-Chi-Minh which I have encountered in Southeast Asia.

Blanco and his men would move in fast on a large plantation. They'd take it over and hold the owners and their families prisoners. Blanco would loot the place and then demand a pay-off—or shake-down—for leaving. He would get the money, all right, from terrified hacienda owners.

OTHER TIMES, Blanco would move in on the campesinos, the farm workers. He would beat and torture them simply to surround himself with an aura of terror. Neither the plantation operators nor the workers would dare fight him or refuse his demands for food, money, shelter, or camouflage.

Nor would the campesinos dare to refuse to join his rural "sindicatos" (unions). Thus he was able to operate as a labor leader as well and spread his influence into some industrial areas. His immediate objective was to drive out the private owners of the big haciendas.

After some three years of terror they were eager to go. They offered their large farms up for sale but there were mighty few takers. Land values dropped. Shipments of produce slowed.

Had Blanco's bands been reinforced by special cadres of Cuban-trained young men who were infiltrating from Bolivia and Brazil, he might have pulled a Castro, at least in the La Convencion district. Thus he would have been the first of the successful continental Castros.

WHAT IS FASCINATING here is Blanco's background. Since there will be others it's worth taking a fast look at this educated chap who chose the jungles instead of Peru's executive suites. Blanco is the type Mao's agents are seeking among our allies to the south. He was born in Cuzco, which they say is "rojo" (red). He was educated in the university there. Then he went to Argentina, where he crossed the circle of Che Guevara's friends. He soon became a fine agronomist engineer.

On his return from Argentina

he moved into campesino (peasant) affairs. He became a sharecropper and soon organized Communist (Trotskyite type) militant peasant unions. Then he used these as a base for marauding on the La Convencion Valley plantations.

Then the Peruvian security forces learned that small bands of young Peruvians who had gone to Havana on scholarships were returning via the Brazilian and Bolivian frontiers for jungle fighting and sabotage.

One band of seven such agents, heading for the La Convencion region, were picked up on May 14. This was in the community known as Puerto Maldonado.

THEIR MISSION was infiltration and subversion among the industrial and farm workers unions of Cuzco and especially the valley of La Convencion.

Documents seized said they were the vanguard of a force "to prepare and carry forward the Peruvian revolution."

On May 17, another Cuban-trained unit was picked up. This one (as did the others) carried falsified Bolivian documents, guns and ammo and a large amount of U.S. Brazilian, Bolivian and Peruvian money.

They had camp gear, uniforms, automatic weapons. They were a small advance guard. But Castro once told me that originally he had 18 men in the Sierra Madres when the world thought he had an army. He won.

Mao's agents are telling "romantic" young Latinos they too can succeed.

They'll take a lot of coordinated watching, and let's not count them out. We did that once in Cuba!

Odd Facts

The first paper money in history was produced as early as A.D. 650 in China, where notes printed from wood blocks appeared in several denominations. However, paper currency as we know it today came into being in 1716 when the Scottish financier, John Law, established a national bank in France and began issuing paper money.

The original purpose of the famed Mason-Dixon Line was not to establish a dividing line between the North and South United States, as sometimes supposed. This line, extending along the southern Pennsylvania and northern Maryland border was established to settle disputes over private land grants.

In their pilot study, called "In Pursuit of Happiness," they report the results of interviews with 282 men in four of these towns, two in the economic downstate and two on the upgrade. At the

Bi-Racial March

By David Lawrence

That's The Outlook In Washington

When the white man discriminates against the Negro, it becomes a matter of public controversy. But what shall be said when the most prominent Negro in the Congress of the United States boldly expresses his own form of discrimination against the white man?

The Rev. Adam Clayton Powell, who is the chairman of the Committee on Education and Labor in the House of Representatives, threatened the other day to bolt the Democratic party leadership of the House on the matter of priority of certain legislation. He said in his church on Sunday in a prepared address:

"No white man, any more, is going to tell me what I should do in the field of civil rights."

Does Mr. Powell distrust the judgment of the Democratic party leaders because they are white? He also declared that "white liberals" now must assume a secondary role to Negro leaders. Not long ago Rep. Powell also said to the press:

"We have the white man on the run now, let's keep him on the run!"

This type of thinking is not likely to decrease but to increase race consciousness.

Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, who is often swayed by political expediencies, has produced in objective terms a clear-cut exposition of the whole question of the responsibilities of whites and Negroes in the current controversy. He did this more than five weeks ago during a discussion on NBC's "Meet the Press" program.

THE STENOGRAPHIC transcript of those comments is well worth rereading and reproducing in the light of Rep. Powell's remarks.

Since the attorney general had discussed the rights of Negroes, he was asked to define the responsibilities of the Negroes. Mr. Kennedy replied:

"I think that they have a responsibility not only to Negroes but to white people and to the United States. I think we can make great progress in this field. I think that the progress that is required and necessary will be made only if whites and Negroes join together to make that progress."

"If Negroes under pressure get the idea that the only way to have steps taken is to act the role of bully and, at least as one Negro leader has said, 'We have the white man on the run now, let's keep him on the run.' I don't think that kind of attitude will remedy the situation."

"I think whites and Negroes working together is what is needed at the present time, so I think that Negro leaders have a major responsibility."

Mr. Kennedy was asked if he felt that the Negro now is entitled to special treatment because of past discrimination. The attorney general replied:

"I think he is entitled to special attention to try to remedy the sins of the past. I think we have to focus a good deal of attention — those of us in positions of responsibility and the individual citizen — on this problem. But I don't think that an individual should be hired just because he is a Negro."

"But, on the other hand, I think Negroes are not qualified to certain positions of skill because they have been discriminated against in the past. So I think we should make an extra effort to make sure that that problem has been remedied, that we do more for vocational training, that we do more for education, that we see that they are entitled to the same privileges that the white person is entitled to."

MR. KENNEDY spoke some words of caution about demonstrations and said that Negroes "should obey the laws and should live up to law and order."

He added that he had sympathy for the principle of picketing and parades to call attention to injustices, but that the conference table was a much better device.

With reference to the coming demonstration in Washington, he declared that, while the civil rights legislation should be discussed by Congress, this should not be done "under an aura of pressure." He continued:

"I think there is a right to petition and there is a right of Negroes as well as others to make their views known. And it might come to a point where they feel that the legislation would not be enacted until it is shown that this legislation is wanted by a large percentage of the American people, and they will perhaps have to take some steps to make sure that that is understood."

"But I certainly think that at the present time the Congress should have the right to debate and discuss this legislation without this kind of pressure."

THE ATTORNEY general at the time thought the Washington demonstration was somewhat "premature." Apparently the Negro leaders have not been swayed but have gone ahead with their own plans.

Unable to control the situation from the outside, the strategy applied by Washington officials has been to advise white groups to participate. Both Catholic and Protestant church organizations have just urged their members to take part in the parade on Aug. 28. This gives whites at least a voice in the planning for the event, and it begins to look now as if the demonstration itself will be bi-racial.

Happy Though Rich

By Earl Ubell

Who is happy and why? It's a question the poets have pondered and answered for thousands of years. Now the scientists, with no little trepidation and with all the paraphernalia of mathematics and computers, have started to ask the same question.

Of course, they get some answers that most of us would expect; old people are unhappier than young people. And others we might greet with a so-what—men in general are as happy (or unhappy) as women. But there are surprises—bachelors are far more unhappy than spinsters.

These facts, well-documented with tables of numbers, come out of the latest exploration into the never-never territory of human happiness.

It was a pilot study carried out by the National Opinion Research Center at the University of Chicago.

LIKE MOST of the explorations that preceded it, the Chicago investigation shows that problems close to the individual—family, money, job—affect him powerfully, while the general environment has little obvious influence on his state of happiness. Thus the fear of hydrogen bombs is way down on the list of American personal worries.

Of course in the long run, a changing neighborhood, an economic downturn or even the possibility of catastrophic war can affect the individual's happiness.

That's what the Chicago scientists want to find out. So they have selected eight towns with various social characteristics—economically depressed, Negro, mixed, suburban, immigrant, economically sound, etc.—and they plan to interview the people in them at six-month intervals.

In their pilot study, called "In Pursuit of Happiness," they report the results of interviews with 282 men in four of these towns, two in the economic downstate and two on the upgrade. At the same time, like scientists—headed by Dr. Norman Bradburn and William Simon—collected 1,613 short questionnaires.

Again as in the past, the Chicago group found that the economic or social surroundings have a minor effect on the feeling of happiness or unhappiness when compared to deprivation of money or health on an individual scale.

OUT OF THESE investigations, the scientists hope to understand what influences feelings of happiness.

They want to clear up a puzzling theoretical problem, namely, what is mental health. No psychiatrist or psychologist has yet defined this term to the satisfaction of his colleagues. So the surveying scientist hope that by studying normal populations they will see what it is that makes people happy or unhappy adjusted or maladjusted.

By now they have a dozen clues. Probably the most important contribution to human happiness comes from money. Every study of the human situation has demonstrated this fact.

The Chicago survey shows clearly that the more money people have, the happier they report they are. And the older people get the more important money gets for happiness.

Farmers Reminded Of Practices Report

Farmers who have completed conservation projects approved earlier this year under the 1963 Agricultural Conservation Program were reminded today to file their report of performance for cost-share assistance.

Mark Hilliker, chairman of the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, pointed out that the earlier such reports on completed practices are filed, the sooner the ACP payment can be made. This will permit the farmer to meet the expenses incurred in carrying out the practice, and if he has other projects approved for completion this fall, the cash payments can help to get the additional conservation under way. With spring conservation projects completed and the cost shares received, it will be easier to concentrate on other work that needs to be done. The chairman said that if a farmer has received approval of a practice which he later finds he is unable to carry out, he should report this to his county committee. This may permit the committee to approve another practice for him or for some other farmer in the county.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Today is the saddest day of my life. I'm amazed that I can sit down and write a letter after what I've been through but perhaps it will be good therapy.

This morning we buried my 3-year-old niece. Betsy was a beautiful, bright-eyed darling with golden curls. Last week when we saw her at a family picnic she was full of fun and laughter. Everyone adored her.

Today Betsy is dead because her mother left a bottle of pills in the medicine cabinet. The little girl, thinking the pills were candy, ate every last one of them. My sister-in-law found Betsy lying unconscious on the floor and rushed her to the hospital but it was too late.

It is heart breaking to lose a child through illness but to lose a child because of carelessness is too much to bear. Please print this letter for other mothers to read. It may save some precious young lives. — AUNT MAE.

Dear Aunt Mae: It is baffling that some mothers will carry a sweater to school when the weather unexpectedly turns cold yet these same mothers will leave cleaning fluid in pop bottles, pills that look like candy on bathroom cabinet shelves and loaded guns in closets.

Every mother who is reading these words should check shelves, drawers and closets for potential instruments of death. Remember that a large bottle of aspirin, if taken all at once, can kill a child. Remember, too, that children can climb on chairs and wash basins, and reach top shelves. The only safe place for medicines (and guns) is under lock and key.

Thank you for writing, Aunt Mae. It's good to be reminded of what we think we already know.

Curly-Cured

Dear Ann: I am 17 and going with a boy 19 who works in a minor capacity for my father. My father never liked Alex but he never told me I couldn't go out with him.

Last night Alex came by to take me to a baseball game. I was shocked when I saw him. His hair, which always was slicked back, had a definite curl. You might say it was actually kinky. I asked him what he did to it and he said his sister gave him a permanent.

My folks discussed Alex's hair this morning. My dad gave me no orders, but he did say, "I think that kid is nuts." Do you feel the hair job is reason enough to stop going with him? PIE FACE.

Dear Face: The boy sounds so flakey that if you don't figure the hair job is reason enough to drop him just wait a few days. Curly-locks will do something else soon.

Reluctant Guest

Dear Ann: We have some close friends who accept every one of our invitations and half the time

Historical Group Seeks Members

The Wellsville Historical Society will open a membership campaign this month.

Plans were outlined at a special meeting held Wednesday night on the patio of the W. C. Bunting Co. offices at 3rd and Main Sts.

Special memberships of varying amounts will also be sold. The goal is $1,000. The money will be used to maintain the River Museum and employ a caretaker.

The membership will give the individual free admission, with guests, to the museum. The members also will be invited to attend all meetings.

Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara, president, conducted business. Reports were heard on various phases of the Civil War Centennial observance held last week.

Next meeting is Aug. 15 at the museum.

Dear Reserving: Indeed I do. Some people accept invitations in good faith but when the time comes they aren't up to going. Don't count on this couple for a third and fourth at bridge but do invite them to your larger parties and be compassionate when they don't make it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

bers also will be invited to attend all meetings.

New Contract Affects 45 At Metsch Plant

Forty-five employees of the Metsch Refractories plant in Chester are affected by a new one-year agreement that grants pay increases in several job classifications, a shift differential and improved insurance and vacation plans.

Details of the agreement were announced today by James Means, president of Local 328, International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery. Representatives of the local, along with Frank Dales, IBOP vice president, negotiated the agreement with management.

Means said the principal gains are a 16-cent raise for finishers and packers, a 30-cent hike for laborers and warehouse, a 5-cent boost for pressers and differentials of 5 cents on the afternoon turn and 10 cents on the night shift.

Under the new agreement, management will pay the insurance premiums for single employees, he said. Family plan insurance will cost the employees $8.05 a month, a decrease of $2.37, he added.

In an improvement in the vacation plan, an employee with a year's service will be entitled to a week's leave with pay equivalent to 2 per cent of his year's net earnings. Persons with five years' or more service will be entitled to two weeks off, with pay equivalent to 4 per cent of the net earnings in the prior year.

Piecework rates will be raised and working conditions will be improved, he added.

Means said employees approved the IBOP as bargaining agent in March.

The local meets monthly in the old IBOP Building on W. 6th St. The president said the next session will be Monday, Aug. 12, at the new Brotherhood Building on Route 7 for the August meeting only.

Legal Curb Eyed On Ugly Shacks In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP)—Officials of the statewide cleanup program have decided the 1964 Legislature should be asked to do something about the 8,000 unsightly, unoccupied shacks that dot the West Virginia landscape.

Meeting here Wednesday, the cleanup group agreed to ask Gov. Barron to include such an item in his call for the 30-day legislative session beginning in January.

Proposed legislation would involve greater authority for the state, under its police powers, to force removal of vacant and dilapidated structures primarily from the vicinity of state highways.

U.S. Education Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy Wednesday proclaimed Nov. 10-16 as American Education Week.

He said the concept of free, universal education for all young people was, for the first time in the history of the world, translated into reality in this country.

Officers Hurt In Chicago's Race Turmoil

CHICAGO (AP)—Four policemen were injured, one reported seriously, Wednesday night as about 100 policemen tried to prevent further racial disturbances in a South Side district.

About 500 persons, most of them white, appeared for the third straight night in the district.

The trouble centers about a block from an apartment building into which two Negro families moved in earlier this week. The immediate neighborhood is predominantly white.

Police arrested 33 persons, including seven juveniles. One Negro was arrested.

The arrests were made for refusal to obey police orders to disperse. Minor fights broke out between the policemen and several persons.

The policemen were injured when they were hit with bricks and stones as they sought to make arrests.

One policeman, Louis Pote, 36, was treated for a possible skull fracture at a hospital.

Pote identified a Negro, Edward Sperry, 35, as his assailant. He was charged with aggravated assault.

The other policemen were released from the hospital after being treated for cuts.

Police said four white motorists reported Negro youths had smashed their car windows near the scene of the disturbances. One man, police reported, said the youths attacked him with fists and boards as he stepped from his car.

Police arrested 31 persons on Monday and Tuesday nights. Ten were juveniles.

Trade Curb Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, has introduced a bill to forbid foreign vessels engaging in trade with Cuba from loading or unloading either passengers or cargo at U.S. ports.

Miss Ruth Cline Becomes Bride Of Robert C. Paton

A romance of college sweethearts culminated in marriage when Miss Ruth Cline became the bride of Robert C. Paton last Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Boyce Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor R. Cline of Globe St. and her husband's parents are Prof. and Mrs. Andrew W. Paton of Kent.

The Rev. Ronald Reaer, pastor, was assisted in performing the double-ring ceremony by the Rev. Thomas Paton of Kent, brother of the bridegroom and newly-ordained minister.

Sprays of white, carnations, palms and candelabra formed the altar background. Satin bows marked the family pews. Mrs. Wilbur Forester, aunt of the bride, presented a half-hour recital of organ music. Miss Vicki Windle sang "Whether Thou Goest," "God Hath Promised" and "I Believe."

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father and wore a full-length gown of Chantilly lace and silk organza. The fitted bodice was designed with a Sabrina neckline and elbow-length sleeves.

The bouffant skirt featured a bustle back and fell into a chapel train. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a queen's crown of pearls. She wore lace mitts and carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of orchids, stephanotis and carnations and tied with satin streamers.

The Bible was a gift of Mrs. Forester. In observing the traditions, the sixpence in her shoe was given her by a sister, Mrs. Herbert Purton.

Miss Linda Shearer was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Richard and Mrs. Purton. They wore dresses of tangerine crystal peau fashioned with controlled skirts. The sleeveless bodice featured round necklines in the front and deep V-shapes in the back. Their matching Dior bows held theater veils. They carried Colonial bouquet of tangerine color roses. They received bracelet charms as gifts of the bride.

Becky Seavers, niece of the bride, and Sherry Fey were flower girls. They wore white lace dresses with tangerine color sashes and headbands. They carried baskets of flowers. Tim Purton, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

James Paton served as his brother's best man. Ushers were William Paton, another brother, Victor R. Cline Jr., the bride's brother, and Herbert Purton, her brother-in-law. They received monogrammed belts from the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride wore a beige sheath with matching bolero jacket and accessories and tangerine color tearose corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in blue lace with matching accessories and corsage of white roses.

A reception for 200 followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Purton of Etruria St. The buffet table was centered with a three-tier cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Floral arrangements and lighted tapers completed the setting.

Aides were Mrs. Arlene Zimmerman, Miss Barbara Jo Nally, Mrs. Donald Rogers, Mrs. Cline Jr. and Mrs. Florence Conley.

Guests were from Mobile, New Haven, New Orleans, Wooster, Kent, Akron, Ashtabula, Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls and Painesville.

For her honeymoon motor trip the bride wore a beige and brown ensemble with matching accessories and her bridal orchids.

The newlyweds are members of the Senior Class at Kent State University and will graduate in December, the bride with a degree in health and physical education and her husband, in science education. The bride is a member of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority and the Sharks Club, a synchronized swimming club. Her husband previously attended the University of Wisconsin.

The couple will reside in Ravenna.

Union Denies Bias High In Construction

WASHINGTON (AP)—C. J. Haggerty, president of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department, today branded as "plain nonsense" the notion that job discrimination against Negroes is far more prevalent in construction than in other industries.

Employment figures presented recently to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz "showed a completely opposite picture," Haggerty said.

For comparison with the construction industry, Haggerty cited a study of employment practices of 65 firms representing a cross-section of U.S. industries. The 65 firms are participating in the "plans for progress" program—a drive for voluntary adoption of a nondiscriminatory hiring policy.

Haggerty said the study, made by the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity, showed last December that only 12,110 or 2.6 per cent of the 65 companies' 2.5 million employees were nonwhites.

A month ago, Haggerty said, the Labor Department made a similar survey of federal construction jobs in 47 selected cities and found a ratio of 5.3 per cent of Negro journeymen and apprentices to total men employed.

"The survey showed Negro employment on these jobs, including lesser skilled labor, came to 17 per cent of the total," said Haggerty.

Examination Set For Man Facing Murder Charges

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—A former mental patient, charged with the slaying of a Navy map-maker, has been ordered committed for 45 days of psychiatric observation.

Arlington County Court Judge K. McFarlane Smith ordered Alexis G. Madden, 44, a native of Youngstown, Ohio, committed on the motion of Commonwealth's Atty. William J. Hassen, who said Madden is sociopathic personality who becomes violent when drinking.

Madden is accused of shooting down Theodore R. Hoffman, 48, as Hoffman was standing in front of his Arlington home Tuesday night. Hoffman, who had a wife and son, 6, worked for the Navy Hydrographic Service.

Records introduced at Wednesday's hearing indicated Madden had been committed to institutions at Youngstown and Chillicothe, Ohio, while in the Army Air Corps in World War II.

In 1956, he was committed to Western State Hospital at Staunton, Va., after he was arrested and charged with threatening to kill his father and sister.

Fire Denudes 25-Acre Area

SUMMITVILLE — Fire burned over 25 acres on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Nemeth about three miles west, before it was quelled by the Franklin Township and Fox Township volunteer fire departments Wednesday afternoon.

The blaze burned through high grass in an orchard and also swept over three hay fields. A small hog pen was destroyed, but no animals were lost.

The farm is located in East Township in Carroll County. The alarm was received at 1:45 p.m. yesterday. It was delayed because Mr. and Mrs. Nemeth have no telephone and help was summoned by a neighbor who saw the elderly couple fighting the blaze.

Authorities said the fire may have started from the exhaust of a tractor which Nemeth was using to cut high grass in an orchard. There was no estimate of the loss. However, authorities said the hay crops apparently had been harvested prior to the blaze and the fire consumed only the stubble. Whether there was any damage to the orchard was not known.

The first alarm was received by the Franklin Township department. It was relayed to the Fox Township department in Carroll County, as the two departments have a reciprocal aid agreement.

Firemen said Mr. and Mrs. Nemeth were exhausted by their efforts to quell the blaze before the Franklin Township department arrived.

Turncoats Want To Return, Says Akron Defector

HONG KONG (AP)—American turncoat Lowell D. Skinner of Akron, Ohio, left Red China today and said some of the nine U. S. defectors from the Korean war still in China also want to go home.

The 34-year-old ex-corporal was handed over by the Chinese communists to British and American Red Cross officials in Hong Kong. He is the 11th to return of the 21 American POWs who refused repatriation after the Korean armistice in 1953. One other died in China.

Contrary to earlier reports, Skinner did not bring a family with him. He said his Chinese wife was under treatment for an undisclosed ailment. Skinner said they had no children.

Skinner, who was dishonorably discharged from the U. S. Army in 1954, appeared in good health. "I want him home," said Skinner's mother, Mrs. Brady D. Skinner, in Akron.

Skinner's 72-year-old father, a plasterer, said he was thankful his son was coming home.

Dairy Strike Talks Reveal No Progress

PITTSBURGH — Negotiations were to be resumed today between leaders of the striking dairy employees union and industry representatives as hopes for an early settlement grew dim.

Farm Maid Dairy of McKnight Rd. signed Wednesday with Local 205, Milk & Ice Cream Salesmen, Drivers and Dairy Employees, making a total of 11 firms which have inked contracts.

Thirty firms in the eight county area — including Allegheny and Beaver Counties — are still holding out against union demands for higher wages and better job security.

The two sides met last night, recessing at 10 with no comment other than that another meeting would be held today.

The union made a new proposal to the companies yesterday and received a counter settlement offer in the afternoon.

Union officials had prepared to call a meeting of its 3,000 members. But after the company offer had been studied in detail, a union source said prospects for peace were "lousy."

Although the dealers' original demand for changes in delivery system has been dropped from bargaining, the union is concerned over other conditions which, it says, would eliminate jobs of members. Union representatives had fought the route changes contending they would have eliminated 290 of the 1200 drivers.

The management proposal includes operating issues which the union argues would speed up automation of dairies and affect members working inside the plants.

An industry negotiator expressed the view that the automation problem represents a stumbling block to settlement.

Probation Given Man For Derailing Attempt

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 19-year-old Mercer County man has been placed on three years probation by a federal judge on a charge of attempting to derail a freight train.

U. S. District Court Judge Louis Rosenberg handed down the sentence in Pittsburgh Wednesday against Robert W. Caszatt of Clarks Mill, R. D. 1.

The FBI said Caszatt and George J. Blair, 21, of Greenville, R. D. 1, put wooden boards and a railroad tie on tracks near Clarks Mill last November in the path of a New York Central train.

Blair is being held in Cleveland after turning himself in to police there and reporting he did not have enough money to return to Pittsburgh for sentencing.

Beaver Falls Firm, Union Sign Contract

BEAVER FALLS — Babcock & Wilcox Co. and the United Steelworkers have announced the signing of a new contract. The old pact expired last midnight.

The settlement, which covers some 4,000 workers, embodies the general terms of the basic steel settlement announced June 29.

Action Urged For Negroes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The nation's Negroes "will go the full way" in the drive for civil rights, says the president of the National Urban League.

Henry Steeger, New York magazine publisher and a Caucasian, told a news conference Wednesday that increased Negro militancy and further rioting, bloodshed and picketing will result unless promises to the Negroes are fulfilled.

Steeger said both current times and the tone of the league's national conference here demand greater militancy within the interracial league itself.

"The word militancy has not been much applied to the league in the past," Steeger said, "but our view is that militancy can be evidenced around the conference table as well as in a picket line."

Whitney M. Young Jr., the league's national executive director, in an address at the annual banquet, urged the nation to support a massive domestic "Marshall Plan" to raise the Negroes' social and educational standards. "Giving equally to citizens suffering for generations of deprivation is, in effect, giving inequality," said Young.

The "Marshall Plan" asks special assistance to Negroes in education, training and employment and "calls for the same kind of expression of generosity and understanding which motivated his country to spend 12 billion under the original Marshall Plan," Young said.

SUMMER MOUNTAINEERS

Roped together, two climbers cross a glacier where crevices are an ever-present problem.

A climber chops footholds on a glacier where warm clothing is needed even in the summer time.

"Stairs from the valleys and steps to the sun's retreats." Thus did Canadian author Earle Birney characterize mountains.

The foremost Canadian exponents of the not-so-easy art of climbing such stairs are members of the Alpine Club of Canada.

Formed in 1906, the Club holds summer climbing camps, usually 10-day to two-week affairs, to break in apprentices of the alpine art.

Permanent glaciers in the Canadian Rockies furnish experience in ice climbing, snow traverses and ice crossings. Club members are also filled in on the techniques of rock climbing, line of ascent and rope management, all taught by international experts.

The Club has led expeditions to new areas and made ascents of many of Canada's more difficult peaks, including Mount Logan which at 19,850 feet is the highest in Canada.

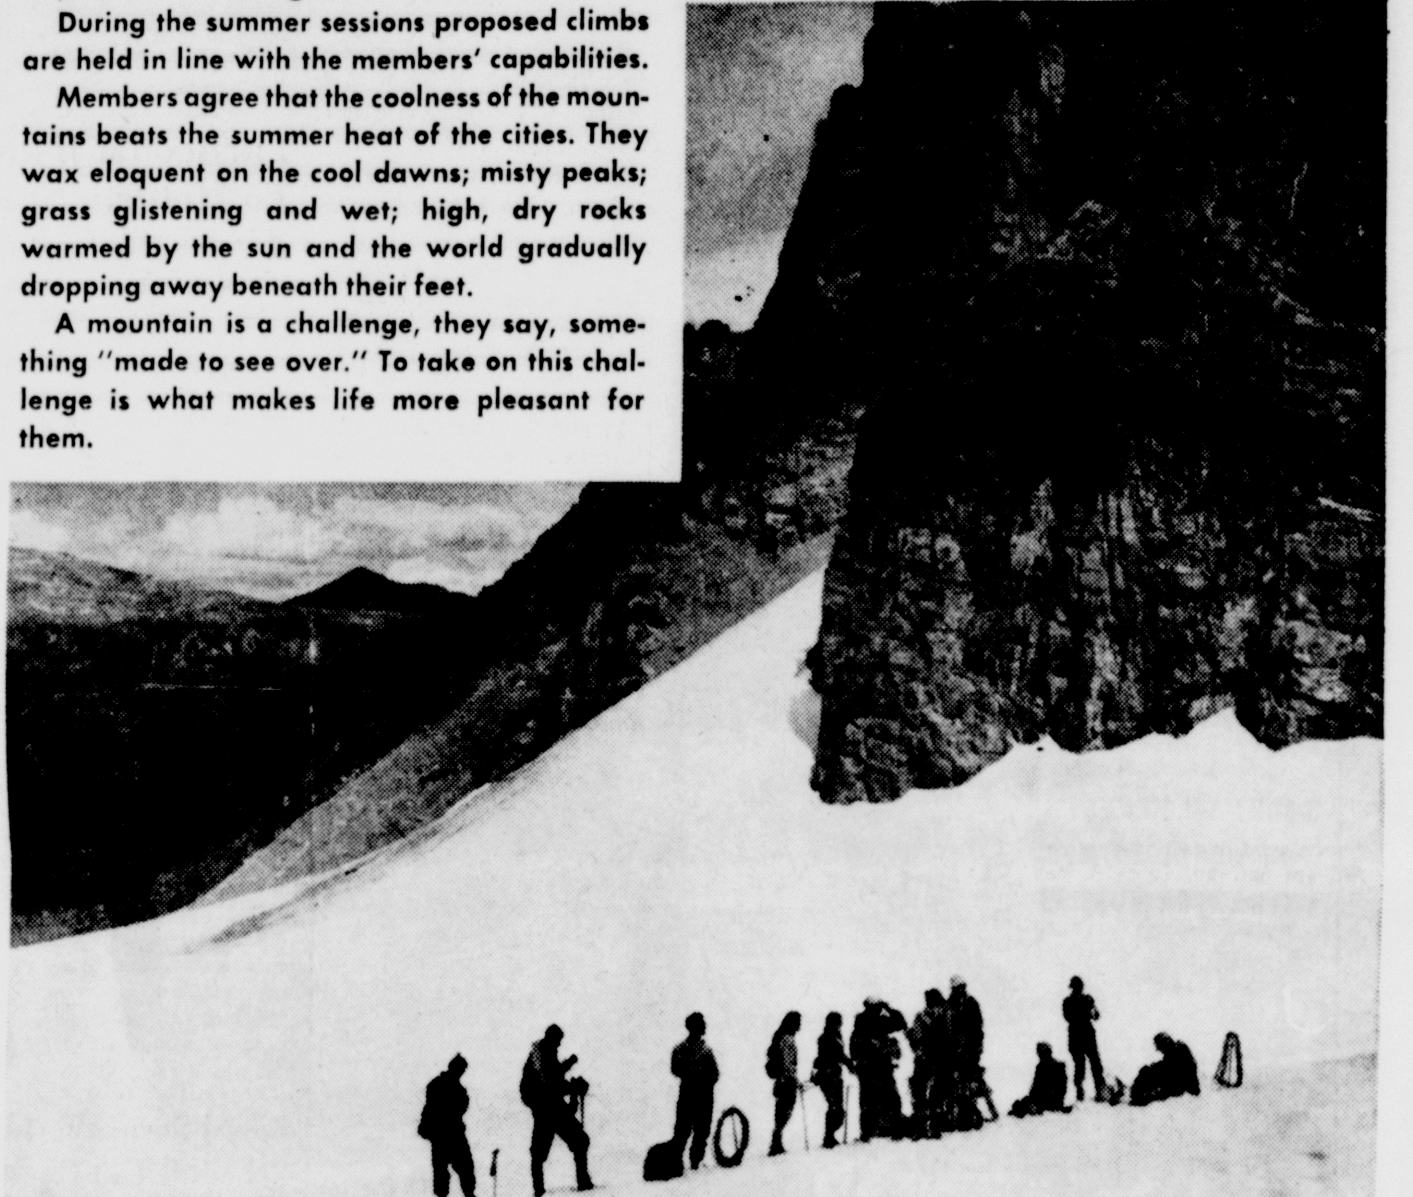

During the summer sessions proposed climbs are held in line with the members' capabilities.

Members agree that the coolness of the mountains beats the summer heat of the cities. They wax eloquent on the cool dawns; misty peaks; grass glistening and wet; high, dry rocks warmed by the sun and the world gradually dropping away beneath their feet.

A mountain is a challenge, they say, something "made to see over." To take on this challenge is what makes life more pleasant for them.

A group of students marches Indian file back to the base camp after a session at the higher "snow school."

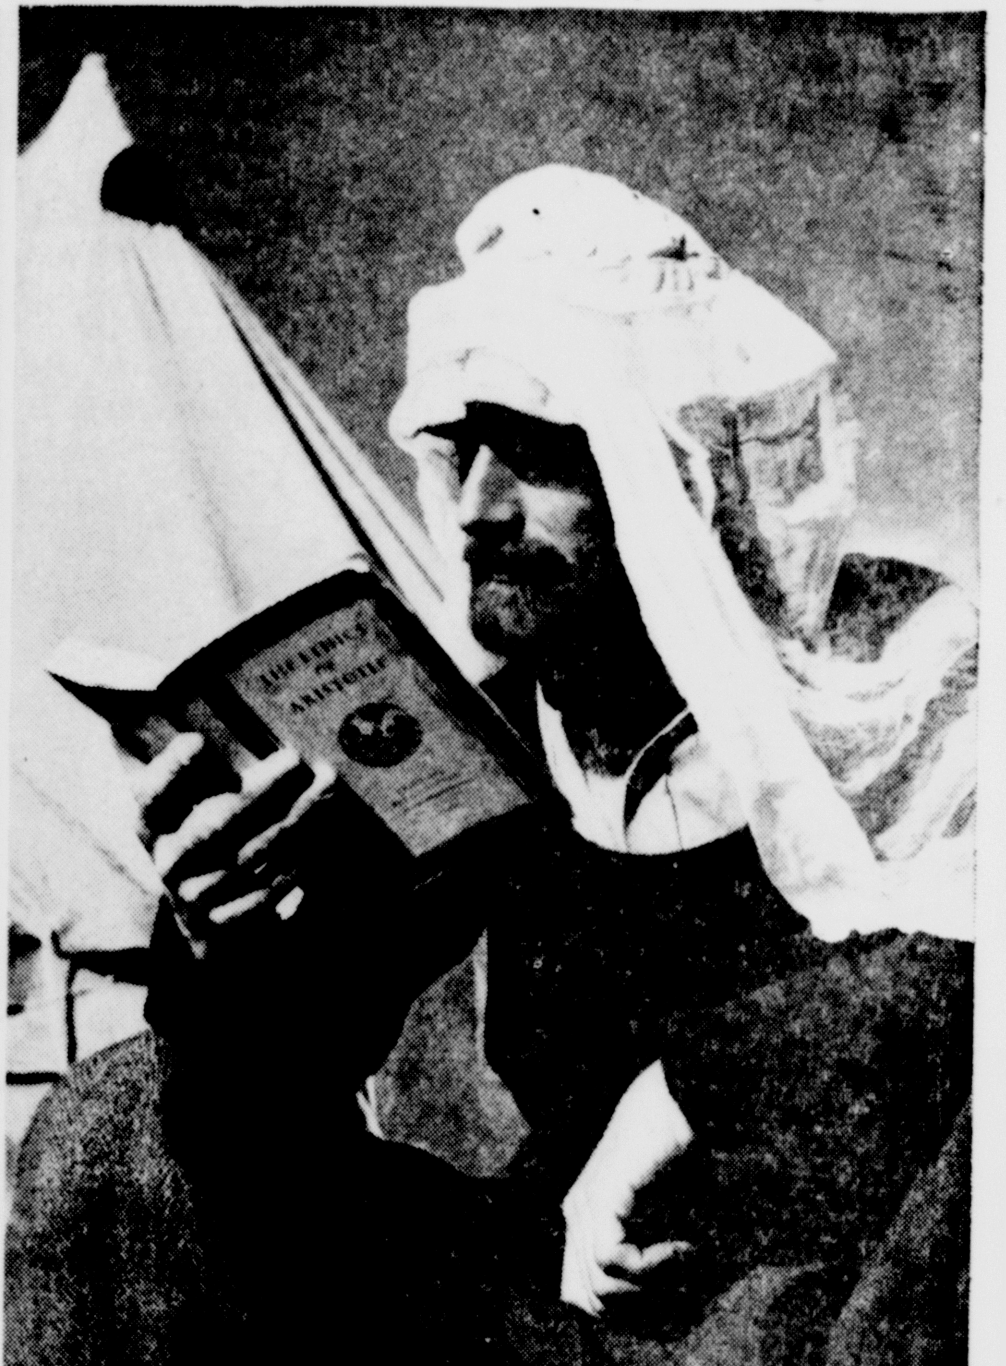

At a high "snow school," students learn step-cutting and crevice crossing. Later they will climb together.

Club members take advantage of a Sunday to rest, dry their socks and read the papers. There are no organized climbs scheduled on that day.

An instructor shows the proper way to rappel down a cliff, a high-speed method of descent. Experienced mountaineers are used as instructors.

To keep mosquitoes away while he reads Aristotle's Ethics, a member of Canada's Alpine Club wears a burnoose of cheese cloth over his head and neck.

Out Of The Air

The Interview As An Institution

The press interview with the visiting celebrity has become in recent years as firmly entrenched in American culture as the singing of the National Anthem before every baseball game.

I wonder, though, whether the institution of the interview isn't becoming a bit of foolishness, a bore, and, for our hard-pressed celebrities, a big nuisance.

Now this may seem rather strange coming from a fellow who spends quite a few of his days asking questions of uncomfortable comedians and tall, angry actresses. And it is.

IT MAY SEEM as though I'm hitting the hand that shakes the hand that feeds me — meaning my own — and that's true, too.

What's more, I find it a thoroughgoing pleasure to break bread and exchange words with most of the working stiffs of the entertainment business; so I'm not trying to weasel out of an offensive chore.

For the interviewer, an interview is a stimulating exercise because (1) he has nothing personally to lose (he's not on the carpet), and (2) he is conversing generally with a personality of considerable glamour and larger-than-life dynamism.

Oh, there are times when an interview just lies there like a dying blowfish — but only because the questioner or the answerer has a hangover, or it's hot out, or the tuna fish sandwich at lunch that day was tainted.

AS A PARTIAL LIST of my own bad interviews, let me drop the names of Bob Newhart, Gary Crosby, Don Knotts, Johnny Carson, Ralph Edwards, John Forsythe, Ben Gazzara, Henry Fonda, Anne Bancroft, Joey Bishop, Lloyd Bridges, Lloyd Nolan and Bill Dana.

(Miss Bancroft is generally the prightliest imp around, but not on the day I saw her; and Dana is widely celebrated as the best of interviewees, but somehow the sparks never got struck between us.)

The best interviews are most often people who can't help but be good. And I think immediately of Lauren Bacall, Lucille Ball, William Saroyan, Carol Burnett, Boris Karloff, Buddy Ebsen, Malcolm Muggeridge, Betty Engel, Shelley Berman, Julie Harris, and Sam Levenson.

SOME are a happy surprise. Jack Elam is a wonderfully outspoken and inventive man. Chet Huntley is far from reserved. Ralph Bellamy is great. And a game show director named Mike Gargulio is sheer splendor.

OCCASIONALLY, an interviewee will hammer at a reporter to a point of total exhaustion (Gloria Swanson, John Henry Faulk). Sometimes a notoriously bad interviewee will turn out to be just dandy (Danny Kaye). And while it's generally fun to interview a child, it's always fun to meet a bathing beauty.

Celebrities, I'm saying, are alive, constantly a surprise, and to meet them is an experience.

But why, I wonder, does a celebrity put up with the rest of us? The fellow works harder than you and me, no matter what false notions we might entertain regarding an actor's life.

And in much of his spare time he must jammer away to a reporter regarding his politics, love life, bank account and his definition of the art of humor.

He does it because his studio or network wants him to do it. And he does it because he is convinced the American public will forget his name — or not tune in — if he doesn't.

I'M AFRAID I don't believe it for a moment. Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra and Judy Garland, to cite just three of many, who long dodged interviewers, and I haven't noticed any abnormal erosion in their careers.

And as for the young, still-known actor or actress — well, I get the feeling after reading an interview with one of them that I still haven't heard of the fellow.

(You've read 863 interviews with James Drury alone, haven't you? And can you remember anything about James Drury at this moment? Of course you can't.)

I was talking to acid-tongued Henry Morgan the other day about interviews — an ordeal he has avoided as often as possible.

"I'm 'anti' them," he said. "They're generally a preconceived setup. They always start off with 'acid-tongued Henry Morgan' — no matter HOW jolly and pleasant I've been.

"MAYBE I SAY two amusing things during the course of an interview, but do you think they'd show up in the piece? Naw."

"Interviews don't do a guy any good; they come out as standard stuff, so why bother?"

"And what does anybody want with me, anyway? I'll never understand why anybody interviews anybody else, unless he's maybe Benjamin Franklin."

Keep In Trim

What Do You Do For Exercise?

In our pushbutton age almost everyone has to curb calories in order to control weight. The other side of the coin is that we should step up exercises to increase our fuel requirements. Physical activity is the big variable in calorie expenditure.

Facts are brought to light every day that indict our lack of exercise. The trouble is, exercise is not a built-in factor in our way of life. The less we move the less we feel like moving. To counteract our mechanized living, it is necessary to make ways to get enough exercise to keep in tone.

MUSCLE contraction promotes proper functioning of the body. Use the principle of isometric contraction. If you will contract any muscle and hold the contraction for six seconds, you can increase muscle strength 5 per cent in a single week.

A reader has asked for specific instructions. Here is the technique: Contract strongly with a muscle, or set of muscles, as with the abdominals, and hold the contraction for a period of six seconds. This calls for a bit more than a fast 1 to 6 count. Try this: 1-Mississippi, 2-Mississippi, etc. Slowly release the contraction. Breathe freely. Never hold your breath.

In summer you awaken early. Use those extra minutes to tone up the big muscles. Stretch from tip to toe and at the height of the stretch, hold. Release slowly.

Under contest rules, the boys had to do all their own construction. There was nothing to prevent anyone else from showing them how the work should be done but any actual cutting or materials or construction had to be the work of the boys themselves.

McDonald Starts Job As U.S. Navy's Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy changed commands today, welcoming aboard Adm. David L. McDonald as the new chief of naval operations and bidding farewell to the retiring chief, Adm. George W. Anderson.

McDonald, 57, a native of Maysville, Ga., moved from the 6th Fleet and Eastern Atlantic Command to the Pentagon post—the same route Anderson had followed.

Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth formally greeted McDonald and said goodbye to Anderson in a brief address prepared for the change of command ceremony at the naval station here. President Kennedy has appointed Anderson ambassador to Portugal.

Since the first derby was run in 1934, scholarships worth $207,500 have been awarded to 69 boys in 40 different communities.

The 1963 champion will receive a $7,500 scholarship to the college of his choice. Second prize is $5,000 and the list runs down to a ninth place award of a $1,000 scholarship.

Chevrolet officials estimated the average finalist has spent over a year in building and perfecting his car for the big day.

All of Saturday's entries will use the identical wheels, axles and steering assembly. For the rest of the vehicle, the boys can spend a maximum of $20. There is no aluminum, steel, iron or plastics in the body, but wood, fiberglass, cloth covering, glue, and laminated paper may be used.

FOLLOW through with this flat-tender: Lie on back on floor, or on a firm mattress. Have hands on hips, elbows off floor. Raise head, shoulders and feet from floor. Hold for a slow count of six.

Exercise that is pleasantly invigorating leads to a feeling of physical and mental well-being. We used to think of health in terms of absence of disease. But fitness is a positive factor, something to be genuinely enjoyed.

For that extra fillip of fine feeling, engage in some outdoor exercise several times a week. Swimming is my favorite. Walking also affords perfect exercise.

Man's Guilty In Drug Theft

A Common Pleas Court jury

Wednesday afternoon convicted John Ciesielski, 30, of Pittsburgh on two counts in the 1960 burglary of the Peoples Drugstore. The defense said it would appeal. The trial began Tuesday at Lisbon.

Ciesielski had been indicted for the burglary June 19, 1960, of the East Liverpool store and theft of narcotics.

The jury received the case at 11:25 a. m. after being charged by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard. The panel returned shortly for a reading and asked of the testimony of W. F. O'Neil, manager of the store at that time.

After the jury returned from lunch, the court stenographer read O'Neil's testimony and the panel of 11 women and a man resumed deliberations at 1:15 p. m., returning the verdict in an hour and 35 minutes.

Atty. John McDonald, defense counsel, advised court he would file for a new trial and bond of $5,000 was continued and Ciesielski was released.

The jury was excused for this term of court, as there will be no jury trials during August.

County Scout Council Camping To Wind Up

LISBON — The seventh and final week of summer camping for Boy Scout Troops of the Columbiana Council will begin at noon Sunday for approximately 50 boys, according to Bennett D. Taylor, council executive and director of the program.

The following troops will report: Troop 60 of St. Ann's Catholic Church in East Liverpool; Troop 5, Salem Christian Church, and Troop 1, St. George's Catholic Church of Lisbon. A provisional troop of boys who were unable to attend when their units were camping during the first six weeks will also participate in the concluding session of the Twin Spruce Camp at Leesville Lake. After the boys' camp closes Aug. 11, some 80 Salem, Leetonia and Columbiana Girl Scouts will camp for a week.

Four Successive Homers By Indians Set League Record

Held, Ramos, Francona, Brown Club Foytack; Tribe Wins Pair

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Put Paul Foytack's feat high on that list of baseball's dubious distinctions.

The Los Angeles Angels' right-hander became the first pitcher in major league history to give up four straight home runs in a single inning Wednesday night—an unwanted achievement if ever there was one.

Foytack was bombarded in the second game of a doubleheader at Cleveland when Woodie Held, pitcher Pedro Ramos, Tito Francona and Larry Brown socked successive homers in the sixth inning. The rapid-fire barrage climaxed a night of long-range hitting for the Indians as they swept the Angels, 1-0 and 9-5.

The four consecutive homers in an inning set an American League record and tied the major league mark established by Milwaukee in June 1961. But the Braves hit their four in a row against two different Cincinnati pitchers—so Foytack's feat is a first.

All told, the Indians whacked seven homers in the doubleheader. Fred Whitfield won the opener with a shot in the eighth inning and also hit a grand slam in the second game, and Ramos hit a pair in the nightcap.

Also in the AL—Tom Tresh's homer with two out in the bottom of the ninth gave New York's first-place Yankees a 3-2 decision over Kansas City; the Chicago White Sox beat Washington 5-2; Baltimore beat Detroit, 2-1; and Minnesota tripped Boston 9-5.

Barry Latman pitched a four-hitter for the Indians in the open at Cleveland, settled by Whitfield's homer off Fred Newman in the eighth.

In the second game Ramos' first homer and the grand slam by Whitfield came in the third inning, giving Cleveland a 5-1 lead, and it went to 9-1 with the Tribe's four-in-a-row in the sixth.

Ralph Terry held the Athletics to five hits, but they bunched two of them and two sacrifice flies for a 2-2 tie in the seventh inning. Tresh pulled it out for the Yanks, however, with his clutch homer off reliever Ted Bowsfield in the ninth.

The White Sox beat the Senators with a four-run fifth inning highlighted by Jim Landis' two-run triple. Ray Herbert, who won it with relief help from Hoyt Wilhelm, blanked Washington until Don Zimmer homered with one on in the seventh. The loser was Claude Osteen.

Friendly Bowling Nine Rallies To Top Negley

The Friendly Bowling Merchants came up with three runs in the top of the seventh to register a 4-1 victory over Negley on the loser's field.

Manager John Andrason's nine scored a single run in the fourth inning but Negley tied it up with a run in the fifth inning.

Sparkling East Liverpool's drive was veteran baseballer Bob Gessford and Frasier. Gessford smacked two doubles and a single in four trips and Frasier smacked a long home run and a single.

Dick Chamberlain was the winning hurler coming on to pitch the last two innings.

J. Noel led Negley with three hits and McCown was the losing hurler.

Has To Pitch A Shutout To Get Tie; Dodgers Win On 6-Hitter

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Roger Craig, the major leagues' No. 1 pitching pauper, stands today one step away from etching yet another entry into the New York Mets' lengthy log of negative statistics.

The hapless hurler with the "I gotta pitch a shutout to get a tie" motto spun a six-hitter Wednesday night against National League-leading Los Angeles but came away with a 5-3 defeat—and his 17th consecutive loss.

The triumph, increasing the Dodgers' lead over second-place San Francisco to 4½ games, shackled Craig with his 19th defeat and extended a winless streak that dates from his second victory on April 29.

Just one loss removed from becoming a two-time 20-game loser, Craig also has closed in on a league record for successive setbacks that has escaped being matched for over half a century.

In 1910, Clifton Curtis of the Boston Braves lost 18 in a row.

Craig, a 32-year-old right-hander, became the loser when the Dodgers pushed across two runs in the fourth inning with the aid of an error and a wild pitch.

An error also contributed to the downfall of the second-place Giants. With their nine-game winning streak on the line, relief pitcher Bob Bolin uncorked a wild throw that catapulted Philadelphia to a 7-3 victory in 14 innings.

In other games, Cincinnati knocked third-place St. Louis five games back as Jim O'Toole broke a six-game losing streak by beating the Cardinals 9-2. Ron Santo supplied the punch for the Chicago Cubs' 3-2 triumph over Milwaukee and Pittsburgh whipped Houston 6-3.

Craig fell behind when catcher John Roseboro tripled home two runs and scored a third for batterymate Pete Richert, 1-1, in the second inning. In the fourth, the Dodgers clinched it on singles by Tommy Davis and Ron Fairly, an error by Ron Hunt and Craig's wild pitch. Frank Thomas drove two Met runs with a pair of singles.

The Phils scored twice against Giants' 17-game winner Juan Marichal in the ninth to tie, then got their first break in the 14th on an interference call against catcher Ed Bailey that put two men on. Earl Averil followed with a bouncer back to Bolin, who heaved the ball over third base. Johnny Callison capped the burst with a two-run homer. Jack Baldschun brought his record to 9-4 with six innings of two-hit relief. Bolin is 6-4.

Golden Star Wins To Even Playoff

Golden Star evened the score in the playoff for the Little League Championship of East Liverpool with a 2-0 victory Wednesday night.

Klembara hurled a five hitter and didn't give up a run as his teammates managed to push across single runs in the first and third innings.

McBurney's which won the opening game Monday outthit Golden Star five to three but still lost.

Golden Star's runs were driven in by Musuraca and Eckles. The showdown game is set for Friday at 6 p. m. on the Thompson Park Diamond. The series is set for the best two out of three.

All-Stars Best Weapon Appears To Be In Air

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—A massive air attack appears to be the College All-Stars' best weapon against the National Football League champion Green Bay Packers Friday night—but even Coach Otto Graham doesn't know who will lead it.

After a dress rehearsal under the lights of Soldier Field Wednesday night, Graham still was speculating about his starting quarterback.

The four at his command are Heisman Trophy winner Terry Baker of Oregon State, Wisconsin's Ron Vanderkelen, Mississippi's Glynn Griffing, who goes on both offense and defense, and Sonny Gibbs of Texas Christian.

The Packers, who dismantled the All-Stars last year 42-20 with a three-touchdown burst in the last quarter, still rule about a 14-point favorite. Their ace fullback, Jim Taylor, has tested his injured knee and says he is ready.

The game, sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., for the 30th year, will be broadcast and televised by ABC starting at 8:45 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

The NFL champions have won the last four games in the series and hold a 19-8 victory edge. There have been two ties.

Coach Calls Hayes' Run Greatest Of 100 Meters

HANOVER, Germany (AP)—"It must be the greatest 100 meters ever run," said United States track coach Payton Jordan, an old sprinter himself, of the incredible relay anchor leg blasted out by Robert Hayes on the opening day of the United States-West German meet.

Hayes, the burly Florida A&M sprinter, took the baton five yards back of German anchor man Alfred Hebauff, and blazed past the German and won the 400-meter relay by a yard Wednesday.

The American team was timed in 39.7 seconds.

It was the highlight of the opener of the two-day meet, in which the Americans ran up to a 64-42 margin and won eight of the 10 events.

The remaining 11 will be run today.

Henry Carr's brilliant 45.4 seconds victory in the 400 meters was overshadowed by Hayes' great relay leg.

The Americans rapped up one-two sweeps in 110-meter hurdles, with Hayes Jones of Detroit the winner in 13.6 seconds; 800 meters with Tom O'Hara of Chicago in front in 1:49.3; the broad jump with Ralph Boston of Los Angeles leaping 25-11¼; the pole vault, where John Pennel of Miami went to 16-4½ and the discus, won by Bob Humphries of Long Beach, Calif., at 186-3½.

Only the 5,000 meters and the hammer throw were won by the Germans.

Wellsville Pulls Upset On Leaders

Wellsville came up with a big upset by downing league-leading Koerber's, 5-3 Wednesday night in the Slow Pitch League.

Slow Pitch Managers Will Meet Tonight

All managers of teams in the Slow Pitch League are requested to attend a meeting tonight at 7 at the Thompson Park Pool.

Koerber's, which had been sailing along with a 7-1 record, was shut out by Russell until the seventh inning.

Piatt led Wellsville when he started things in the first inning by leading off with a home run then came up with another hit. Mikita had two hits for Koerber's who didn't have their heavy artillery firing for the battle.

In another game, Dan-D-Bar outslugged Ohio Valley, 21-20. The Dan-D-Bar clubbed eight home runs as powerful Jim Cunningham "harmonized" with three home runs. Jack Pease hit the same number along with a double and Heald clubbed two round-trippers.

Don Jackson drove in the winning run when he lashed a triple in the seventh inning.

Herb Crawford paced Ohio Valley with four hits in five trips including a home run. Eckstein, Schwartz and Gibbons also had four safeties each.

New Champ Assured For Public Links

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer. SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A new champion was assured today as entries closed for the 30th Ohio Public Links Invitational Golf Tournament scheduled next week.

Tom Weiskopf of Bedford, 20-year-old winner of the 72-hole medal play classic the last two years, is not among the 240 entrants for this year's tournament at Springfield's Snyder Park and Reid Memorial courses. The defending champion is passing up the event in favor of the Western Amateur Tournament at Benton Harbor, Mich.

But three former winners will seek the crown. The field, representing 51 Ohio towns and cities, includes Art Todd of Columbus, the 1959 winner; Len Pietras of Toledo, 1956 and 1960, and Ralph Schneider of Cleveland, 1949.

Dave Daniels of Columbus, winner in 1958, has turned professional and is ineligible to compete.

From the various districts the entry is: Springfield 42, Cleveland 36, Warren 20, Youngstown 18, Mount Vernon-Delaware 13, Marion 10, Mansfield 13, Canton 20, Toledo 11, Sandusky 8, Steubenville 17, Columbus 19 and Dayton 13.

An 18-hole pro-amateur tournament launches the pay-as-you-go program Monday, with three amateurs taking a pro as a partner, or four amateurs playing their best ball against the field.

Two-man amateur teams will battle it out, also on a best-ball basis, over 18 holes Tuesday.

The medal play championship race for the Sylvanus P. Germaine Trophy gets under way Wednesday. Half the field will play 18 holes at the Snyder Park course and the other half at the new Reid Memorial layout. Thursday the two groups trade courses for 18-hole rounds.

The 60 low scorers, and all ties for the 60th spot, will go into Friday's 36-hole marathon finish. The tournament committee hasn't decided which of the two courses will host the finale.

The four-man city team title and the individual senior championship will be decided on the opening 36 holes.

A merchandise prize list of about $2,500 will be distributed to the winners of the pro-amateur, amateur-amateur and state public links events. Practically all of Friday's 60 or more finalists will get a share of the loot.

Gallagher's Lose 5-1 To Hancock Nine

J. Bryan with a double and two singles and Glass with a pair of singles paced the Hancock nine. Bryan was the winning pitcher with McGaffie the loser.

Hancock Savings won a forfeit over the Chester Merchants on Tuesday.

Pennsylvania Won't License Sonny Liston

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—If champion Sonny Liston and challenger Cassius Clay hope to stage their proposed heavyweight championship fight in Philadelphia, Liston will have to withdraw as one of the promoters.

This was the ruling Wednesday of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission when it rejected an application for a promoter's license from Liston's Intercontinental Promotions, Inc.

The commission acted after receiving an opinion from State Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandroni that granting such a license would be improper.

Alessandroni, asked for an opinion by the commission, said a 1955 law prohibits promoters from having any direct or indirect financial interest in a boxer.

Liston is listed as a 47½ per cent stockholder in Intercontinental Promotions, a Pennsylvania corporation.

Miller Hurls Post 374 To 4-2 Victory

A four-hitter by Bill Miller carried Legion Post 374 to a 4-2 victory over Salem Wednesday at Patterson Field.

Post 374 scored three runs in first inning which proved enough for victory as Miller won his fourth in a row.

Giving Miller the most support was shortstop Dave Bowersock who banged out three hits in four trips to the platter. Welch had a pair of hits for Post 374 and Ralph Smith drilled a double.

Bands Chosen For County Fair Contests

LISBON — Four bands have been selected to play at the Columbiana County Fair Aug. 22-26, according to William Maple, chairman of the music committee, who reported at the Fair Board's meeting Wednesday evening at the fairgrounds.

The Columbiana County 4-H Band will play Thursday—Youths Day; Lisbon High School Band, Friday; Leetonia High School Band, Saturday; and Southern Local High School Band, Monday.

Maple advised the board he is trying to line up eight bands to present a Sunday afternoon concert in front of the grandstand. He has already signed four.

The board decided to raze the old pony barns at the north end of the fairgrounds and will grade the area for use for farm implement displays. Poles kept in this barn now will be housed in tents near the new pony barns erected several years ago.

Dr. Russell F. Stryfeler of Columbiana will be veterinarian.

Harry Lederle began remodeling the board offices this morning and Paul Crosser started construction of a new retaining wall at the southern end of the grandstand. The wall collapsed during the severe winter.

The board will meet again Wednesday at 9 p. m. with Ben Weingart of Leetonia, president, presiding.

Driver Hurt In Car Wreck

A city man was hospitalized with injuries suffered when he wrecked his car Wednesday at 6:15 p. m. on Route 154 a mile and a half east of Rogers.

Harold Pigott, 40, of Woodbine Ave. was in "fair" condition today with a fractured left arm and lacerations of the arm.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Pigott was headed east on Route 154 in a 1963 station wagon when he failed to negotiate a curve. He swerved off the pavement and went over an embankment, officers said.

The station wagon received minor damage. Pigott, taken to the hospital by a passing motorist, was cited for driving left of center.

A trailer with a 17-foot boat and another station wagon were involved in a collision Wednesday night at 8:20 on Route 7 just over a mile south of Route 14, officers said.

The patrol said the craft, being pulled on a trailer by a convertible driven by Lorena Ruth Burns, 35, of Youngstown, was struck by a 1960 station wagon operated by Edward B. Detwiler, 18, of Columbiana.

Detwiler failed to stop for a traffic sign and rammed into the side of the passing boat, which received moderate damage.

He was cited for reckless operation.

Man's Memory Stalls Check Of Injury Case

The victim's loss of memory apparently has frustrated a police investigation into injuries suffered by a 56-year-old Newell man who was found lying on Dresden Ave. early Wednesday.

William Rickey of 3rd St., Newell, was interviewed at City Hospital again yesterday by Patrolman Jerry Adkins, but the officer reported the victim reiterated that he could not remember circumstances leading up to the injury.

Passersby in two autos found the injured man lying on the highway about 1:25 a. m. yesterday. He was taken to the hospital with a possible head injury and abrasions of the scalp. Rickey was identified later by a relative, who told police the injured man said he had been suffering from severe headaches for several days prior to the incident.

Officers said Fain admitted using a hunting knife to cut a six-inch gash in Carter's throat. The slaying occurred in a Wheeling pool room where Fain said he was a "house man in a skin game".

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Plastic Owners: For those of you who own plastic dishes... may I give you one little hint?

Many people are writing in that they use bleaches to remove the stains from their coffee cups. Others use scouring pads. I do not say that this will remove your finish.

However... three manufacturers of plastic dishes have written to us that household bleaches can ruin the "finish" on these plastic dishes. If you have found that after you clean the cups they are clean, but later they stain even worse, I fear the finish on your plastic set has been damaged.

Outside of commercial products, all manufacturers have recommended using soda. They say dip a damp cloth (not a scouring pad) into the baking soda and use this as a cleansing agent to remove the stains.

A few manufacturers recommended using paste silver polish. But why waste silver polish when soda is so inexpensive?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I wonder if any of your readers could settle an argument? Why are some items labeled inflammable and some others labeled flammable?

I don't know. This is amazing isn't it? I see flammable and inflammable both — written on high powered gasoline trucks!

Anybody know the difference in these two words? If so write to Heloise in care of this paper. We would appreciate your answer.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: What can I do to restore whiteness in my piano keys?

S.T.

DEAR S. T.: I suggest that you call your piano dealer or the place where you bought your piano and ask him! Reason? There are so many different types of ivory, plastic, and combinations which are used on piano and organ keys today that we cannot possibly tell you what method to use to wipe them. Your piano dealer will know what type of keys are on your particular piano. He has the specific answer for you.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Do brides ever wonder what they can do with those 54x54 inch tablecloths that they received as shower gifts?

Now that you have a family size table and the cloths are on the linen shelf... I find that they make wonderful heavy aprons. Most of the time you can get two aprons out of one tablecloth.

E.R.H.

Grandmother's Aid

DEAR HELOISE: When the grandchildren come to visit, I find it pays to place a sheet or quilt in the middle of the floor and give them their "rights" to cut magazines and paper dolls with a pair of blunt scissors.

Children love to cut paper dolls from catalogs and magazines.

When they are through playing, all I do is make them gather scissors and paste and put them back in the box where they belong. Then all grandma has to do is pick up the quilt or sheet, put the cuttings in the garbage and fold the blanket again.

Do not worry about paste getting on the sheet or quilt as they can be easily washed in the washing machine.

My grandchildren just love Grandma for allowing them this freedom. I only wish I had thought about it when I raised my own.

GRANDMOTHER.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Job Retraining Plan Hit For Lack Of Space

BEAVER — James E. Ross, Beaver County commissioner and chairman of the county's Manpower Retraining Council, announced today a delay in the program for lack of space and appealed for help in locating suitable quarters.

The first proposal of the commission, to train 25 auto body repairmen, under the provisions of the Manpower Retraining Act, has not been approved because the commission has not been able to find space in a public school building or a privately-owned location that would be satisfactory.

Ross said the council had proposed to start the training outside of the county in a technical school, but the plan has not been accepted because considerable travel and hardship would be involved, without reimbursement.

Ross said the council is open to suggestions from interested residents and local school boards who may have an available facility. The retraining program can be started as soon as quarters are found. Ross can be reached at the Courthouse, 774-5000, anytime.

Wellville Festival To Honor Saint

The seventh annual St. Rocco festival, sponsored by Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507, will be held Monday through Aug. 11.

The festival is held in honor of St. Rocco, a patron saint of the Italian people.

St. Rocco was born in France of noble parents. When he was 19 they died and left him all their possessions, which he sold. The money was distributed to the poor and the boy left for a pilgrimage to Rome. Entering villages near Rome, he found the residents afflicted with disease and remained to help care for them.

Some persons noticed that when he made the sign of the cross over them, they improved or were cured. He moved from town to town performing miracles.

Later, while traveling through a forest, he was stricken himself. A dog from a nearby castle brought him bread daily and a spring burst forth from the ground to quench his thirst. After recovering, he returned to France where he was arrested as a spy and held in prison five years. He died in prison and at the moment of his death, his body shone with a brilliant light.

The festival will be highlighted with a fireworks display Saturday, Aug. 10, at Central Park. The Zambelli Fireworks Co. of New Castle will be in charge. The firm said this will be the largest display ever presented in Wellsville. The finale will contain figures of soldiers and bombs in commemoration of the Civil War Centennial.

Concerts will be held Monday and Wednesday nights from 7 to 9 by members of Local 172, American Federation of Musicians.

The American Funland Amusement Co. of Ravenna will provide the rides and other attractions. The carnival section will be open nightly from 7:30 to 11.

Aerial bombs will be set off nightly at 6 to mark the opening of festivities.

The closing Sunday will include a Solemn High Mass at 11 a. m. at the church. Fr. Gerald X. Curren, pastor, will be celebrant.

The benediction of the blessed sacraments will follow.

In keeping with a past practice, anyone who is ill and will be bothered by the fireworks will be provided free ambulance service to move from the neighborhood during the display. Persons desiring this service should contact the K. of C. home at L.E. 2-1098 or any member.

Members will meet Sunday at 9:30 a. m. to erect lights and booths at the field. James McPeak is grand knight.

Lisbon Court To Pick 200 For Duty On Jury

Preparing for the new term of Common Pleas Court that will open in Lisbon in September, the names of 200 persons will be drawn on Monday Aug. 12, at 10 a. m. at the Courthouse as prospective grand and petit jurors.

The impending selection of jurors was announced today by James S. Gregg and J. C. Conley, jury commissioners. Persons whose names are drawn then will be served with summonses naming the dates and times they are to report.

Israel Joins Test Ban Pact With Area Union

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel and the United Arab Republic, bitter foes who have accused each other of trying to develop atomic weapons, agree they will not conduct nuclear tests above ground or under water.

The Israeli government announced its intention Wednesday of joining the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain in a partial nuclear test ban. The UAR pledged its support of the treaty on Sunday.

every single, eligible voter within sight or hearing of our membership. Our goal is a minimum of two million new Negro voters, North and South."

The movement is steady and seems to be gaining momentum. What are the results?

Exact figures for the South as a whole are not complete. However, the Department of Justice and the Southern Regional Council's "voter education project" pinpoint the changes in some specific areas.

In Tennessee's Haywood and Fayette Counties, a Justice Department official said, Negro registration has jumped from 150 to about 5,000 in five years.

Bullock County, Ala., had four Negro voters on the rolls in 1961, he said. Now the figure is 1,341. In the city of Montgomery, the rate of registration of Negroes used to be about 200 a year. Now it is about 200 per month, he said.

Statistics on 11 Southern states, compiled by the Southern Regional Council, indicate that about one-fourth of the Negroes of voting age are registered. The figures show a total of 5,045,000, of whom 1,344,000 are registered. Wiley Branton, an SRC executive, said the figures are incomplete, some counties being as yet untabulated.

Comparable figures for the white voting population in these states show 17,539,000, of whom 10,566,000 are registered.

Especially in areas where Negroes outnumber the whites—sometimes by as much as five to one—many devices have been used to keep political power in the hands of the whites.

Registration boards met irregularly and at widely spaced intervals. They worked slowly, and then quit for the day, while Negroes were still waiting in line to file applications. Or they rejected applications on technical grounds.

For example, on March 17, 1961, after a long legal battle, a federal court in Alabama ruled on a lawsuit involving Macon County. The judge wrote in his memorandum that:

"18 applicants, more than half of whom had college or advanced degrees, were rejected for such inconsequential, formal, technical mistakes."

He ordered the board to register 64 Negroes and to give priority attention to 400 applicants on the waiting list.

Similarly, in testimony before the House Judiciary Committee, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said:

"In one county, Negroes have been required to copy and interpret long, archaic sections of the state constitution, and then have been rejected for omissions of punctuation. Whites, meanwhile have been asked to copy such simple provisions as, 'There shall be no imprisonment for debt.'"

Mississippi's Gov. Ross Barnett, ascribed the small number of registered Negroes in his state to other causes. In a copyrighted interview with U.S. News and World Report, he said:

"The primary reasons for the fewer Negro voters include illiteracy, apathy, and the law requiring payment of a poll tax. So many Negroes are not qualified to vote."

As Negro voting strength increases, what are the political implications for a candidate for public office in the South?

There have been indications already—although it is difficult to say with certainty—that the Negro vote tipped the balance in certain elections. Some residents of Birmingham, Ala., for example, say Negro ballots ousted T. Eugene (Bull) Connor from the city government. Others are not so sure.

In any case, the thousands of new Negro votes can be expected today to go to the man with "moderate" views on segregation and against the candidate running on a program of strict "white supremacy." In a close election, this could spell the difference.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Picky Eater Shouldn't Disrupt Meal

Suppose you have a family of three children, six to twelve. Suppose one or two of the children don't like the meal prepared for the family. Are you going to make one or more special foods for them? Suppose you have a domestic helper to prepare and serve the family meal. Or Dr. Garry Meyers suppose a child goes to the kitchen and finds or prepares something special for himself.

Whether you or a hired person serves the family meal, preparing something special for a child just because he doesn't like the food served the family requires unnecessary extra work and trouble for someone.

EVEN IF THE child gets or prepares the special food for himself, he still may cause a bit of confusion for the rest of the family and more so if one or several others do likewise.

There's also the matter of not sharing the meal normally with the rest of the family.

A still bigger factor is that the child is catering to his own whim preparing himself not to be a gracious dinner guest at another person's home.

How exasperating it is to have a dinner guest who doesn't like this or that; who is finicky over food.

Moreover, the queer ways when eating out are noticed by other persons. Even children are apt to consider another child who has many strong food dislikes queer.

Girl, 17, Swims English Channel; Credits Parents

FOLKESTONE, England (AP) — "I kept thinking of the sacrifices my parents went through so I could do this," Claudia McPherson of Canada, youngest girl ever to swim the English Channel, said today. "I could hear their voices urging me on. It was something subconscious. And I kept going on. 'I couldn't let them down.'"

Claudia, a student nurse from St. James, Man., swam the swirling waters from Cape Gris Nez, France, to Sandgate, two miles west of here, in 17 hours and 7 minutes Wednesday.

At 17 years and four months, she became the youngest girl ever to accomplish the feat. The previous youngest was Margaret White, an English girl, who was 17 years, eight months when she made the crossing in 1961.

Despite her accomplishment, Claudia has no further swimming ambitions.

"All I want to do now is to return to Silver Heights College in St. James to study to be a nurse," she said. "This was my one swim-whether at the school cafeteria, restaurant or in a friend's home.

OF COURSE there are some fathers who, because of their own food whims, must have one or more foods different from those served the family. They should discipline themselves to conform if they wish their children to learn to eat what is set before them.

A desirable objective in bringing up children is to educate them in learning to enjoy all foods prepared for the family. The immediate concern of most mothers is, of course, that the child shall enjoy a balanced diet by eating some of all the family fare.

Nor should the matter of reasonable social conformity be overlooked. Barring a very few persons with strong food allergies, a person can learn to eat any food if he chooses to do so, by eating a very, very small portion of it at first and gradually more later.

The wise mother makes it clear to all members of the family over three or four, that the foods served are for all of them and that no special foods will be substituted, barring a person of a prescribed diet, of course. She just won't permit the children to begin going to the kitchen for specials.

WHILE SHE might not insist that every person eat of every food served, she will generally expect this. At least it's the food served for the family or nothing, as a rule.

My bulletin, "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Correction I and II," may be secured by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

ming goal and I accomplished it." It was Claudia's second attempt at the channel. Last August, she was forced to quit after nine hours in the water. She lost 20 pounds this time.

Firms Lose Permits To Discharge Sewage

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Water Resources Board has revoked the permits of three more industrial firms to discharge waste into streams.

The board identified the companies as the Saxsewell Division of the Gauley Coal and Coke Corp. at Richwood, and the Spencer Manufacturing Co., and the Burke-Parsons-Bowly Corp., both of Spencer. The board said the three violated provisions of permits under which they were allowed to discharge waste so long as it did not contribute materially to stream pollution.

Unit Formed To Back Ohio's Bond Proposal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A group formed to urge voter approval of a $250 million state bond issue next November has a name and a new co-chairman. The name is "Citizens for Ohio's Future" and the co-chairman is Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati.

The bond issue, requiring passage at the polls of a constitutional amendment, would finance education and capital improvements.

Judge Dies At 67

Goldwater Raps 'Off Limit' Move In South's Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has opened fire on a Pentagon directive that could put segregated communities off limits for servicemen.

The Arizona Republican, regarded as a leading contender for his party's 1964 presidential nomination, rocketed a "police state" charge Wednesday at Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

There was no immediate comment from Kennedy, who has been a favorite target for Southerners who oppose the administration's civil rights program.

Goldwater told the Senate that a directive authorizing commanders to bar servicemen's visits to segregated areas near military bases "started in the attorney general's office."

He said teams headed by Alfred B. Fitt, assistant secretary of defense for civil rights, had visited base areas "completely armed with dossiers on the businessmen in the community. Complete with every figure the committee can get out of income tax returns."

A Defense Department spokesman promptly denied that Fitt or any members of his group have or had information on businessmen taken from income tax records or the files of any government agency.

Goldwater proposed an investigation into "the directive and those people who have pushed it and the full use of the power of the police state by the attorney general."

National Steel's Income Climbs

Net income for the six months ended June 30 was $33,455,327, equal to $2.17 per share, compared with $18,420,097, equal to $1.20 per share, in the first half of 1962.

Sales of $246,815,706 in the second quarter and of $460,423,515 in the first half of 1963 established new quarterly and six-month records. Previous record sales were $241,070,420 in the second quarter and $438,730,125 in the first half of 1959. Net income in the second quarter and the first half periods of 1963 were the second highest in National Steel history. Record earnings were reported in 1959 with $22,957,018 in the second quarter and $39,461,108 in the first half.

Junior Editors Quiz on CLOTHING

QUESTION: Why is white clothing cooler than black in summer?

ANSWER: Think of a ray of white sunlight as containing all the colors — you can prove this by holding a prism across it, which will send out all the brilliant rainbow colors. Different objects respond differently when light rays fall on them. Some may absorb or take in certain or all of the colors; others may reject the colors. The skin of an apple, for instance, absorbs all the spectrum colors except the red, which it rejects—that's why we see the apple as red. In the top picture arrows representing colors are all being absorbed in the spot of black. On the other hand, the bit of white is rejecting all the colors. When all the light ray colors are mixed, you get white—so that an object which reflects or rejects all the colors together will look white. When light rays are absorbed by something, they turn into heat. Since black is absorbing all the colors, it is taking in a certain amount of heat. On the other hand, white is repelling the rays of the sun. That is why white clothes make the wearer feel more cool and comfortable on a hot day; they are actually cooler than dark clothes which are absorbing the sun's heat.

FOR YOU TO DO: Put on a clean white shirt or blouse on a really hot day and see if it doesn't give you a comfortable feeling.

Lynne Hannula of Angora, Minn., wins the daily grand prize of a 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedias for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of the Review and you too may win a set.

Walked Used For 'Four Square'

School Picketed In Hassle Over Play Area

Chased from their favorite area for summer games, a group of 20 East End youngsters employed an adult maneuver — the picket line — to protest a rule forbidding them to play "four-square" in front of the Klondyke School on Ohio Ave. Wednesday afternoon.

The youngsters blamed the custodian, W. T. McGrew, 1644 Holliday St., for being denied permission to play the game on four squares of concrete at the school entrance.

But School Supt. Paul Blair backed up the custodian, pointing out the youngsters have a playground across the street from the school for ball games and other activities.

The children, voicing protests at being banned from the concrete squares by the Police Department, said the playground is too narrow for ball games, and contend that the "four square" game is allowed at other schools in the city.

Apparently picking up the idea of a picket line from student riots some time ago at Bowling Green State University over campus rules, the youngsters prepared signs and paraded back and forth on the street in front of the school.

Questioned on their behavior while on school property, the children declared they never broke windows or left trash to be picked up later by the custodian. Harry Wolfe, playground director of the East Liverpool Recreational Council, termed the East End youngsters "a well-behaved group" and added they have used the front entrance as a site for handicraft work.

This is the first year that custodians of city schools have remained on duty at the buildings all summer long.

Apparently, the question of further use of the concrete for games of "four square" in which a volleyball is bounced back and forth by four children on each of the squares, is up to the school authorities and the playground supervisors.

Auto, City Truck Crash At Corner Of E. 5th, Market

A Beaver County woman's auto was damaged in a collision with a city-owned truck Wednesday afternoon when drivers of both vehicles attempted right turns off E. 5th St. onto Market St. from adjoining lanes, police reported.

The mishap involved a 1960 two-door sedan operated by Patricia R. MacLeod, 40, of Knollwood Dr., Industry, and a 1958 model city-owned truck driven by Thomas S. Anderson, 57, of 130 Haywood St., officers said.

The woman told police she was in the curb lane and the city truck was in the center lane when both attempted turns off E. 5th onto Market. The mishap damaged the left front fender, grill and bumper of the auto. The truck was undamaged.

A 28-year-old man escaped injury when his auto struck a utility pole early today after the brakes grabbed, officers said.

John J. Smuz, 28, of 680 Lincoln Ave. told police he was driving south in Green Ln. about 15 miles an hour at 2:15 this morning when he applied the brakes, causing the car to swerve and strike the pole. There was heavy damage to the right front of the auto, officers said.

State Aides To Attend Freemont Plant Event

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lt. Gov. John Brown and F.P. Neuen-schwander, assistant director of the Ohio Department of Development, will be among the city and state officials going to Fremont Friday to attend groundbreaking ceremonies for a $3 million food processing plant.

Peter Eckrich & Sons of Fort Wayne, Ind., initially will employ 100 people at the plant, but future plans call for maximum employment of 400.

Red China A-Test Would Not Tilt Asia Balance, Aide Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

CHINA: A State Department official predicts that even if Red China is able to test a nuclear bomb this year it will not change Asia's balance of power "for a long, long time to come, if ever."

Asst. Secretary Roger Hilsen, the department's top Far East expert and formerly its intelligence chief, said the Chinese would have to scrape up every ounce of fissionable material they could find to get one explosion.

But this major go-for-broke effort "would probably set back their nuclear weapons program as a whole," he added in an interview Wednesday.

JUNTA RECOGNIZED: The United States has recognized the new military junta in Ecuador which ousted former President Carlos Julio Arosemena July 11.

In its announcement Wednesday the State Department said the United States disapproves of military seizures but that the military regime has been accepted in Ecuador itself, and it praised the Junta's pledge to hold free elections.

TAX DEDUCTIONS: The House Ways and Means Committee has recommended federal taxpayers no longer be permitted to deduct state gasoline, cigarette and liquor taxes.

State income, real estate, personal property and general sales taxes would still be deductible. The tax-writing committee's action on this and several other sections of the administration's big tax measure marked the beginning of a new phase in the group's consideration of the bill.

Southern Local Registration Set For High School

Thomas Leek, principal today reminded all 11th and 12th grade students who reside in Southern Local District but attended Wells-ville or Lisbon High Schools the past year that they must register if they plan to attend Southern Local this year.

The Southern Local Board of Education in April voted to provide tuition for these students if they wish to finish their high school education at either school, but noted they will not provide transportation.

Those who do not plan to continue at either of the two schools should register at Salineville High School Aug. 5-7 between 9 and 11 a. m. or 1 and 3 p. m.

Many students who reside in Southern Local District attended school at Wellsville or Lisbon, which was closer than Salineville. The Southern District provided the tuition and transportation in the past.

With construction of a new high school along Route 39, the district will be able to handle these students.

Crash Kills Woman

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mrs. Flora B. Miller, 58, was killed when an automobile in which she was riding Wednesday went out of control, hit a utility pole and burst into flame. Milton C. Schultz, 35, the driver, was injured seriously.

It is a replica of those used in manned space flights by Astronauts Alan B. Shepard, Virgil Grissom, John H. Glenn and Gordon Cooper.

Social Worker Named By VA

Harry Price of Youngstown has been named by the Veterans Administration as social worker for the five-county Steubenville District.

Price will begin his duties Aug. 19, according to Atty. Michael Blischak of Steubenville, service office for the Jefferson County American Legion Council, and a member of the Soldiers' Relief Commission of the county.

The Steubenville district has been without the services of a social worker since the death of Miss Mary Cunningham Oct. 19, 1962.

Atty. Blischak said the VA regional office in Cleveland found that the recruitment of social workers has been a difficult problem, not only locally but nationally as well. The minimum educational requirement for appointment is a master's degree in social casework, he said.

One of the services performed by a social worker is providing hospitalization in emergencies, particularly in the case of a veteran needing care for a service-connected disability. Price will serve Belmont, Harrison, Carroll, Columbiana and Jefferson Counties.

Woman Elected

DENVER (AP)—Gertrude McCain of Celina, Mercer County, Ohio, has been elected to the board of directors of the National Association of Counties.
